Boneham's thank you to the ADF

"It's all about the smiles on the faces of the residents," Lance Corporal Michaela Stringer said as she was about to end her last shift at Boneham Aged Care Services (BACS) on Sunday.

LCpl Stringer was one of three Australian Defence Force (ADF) nurses in a clinical team to spend a week assisting BACS; the third ADF team to have helped the facility through a Covid-19 induced rough patch over the last three weeks. The army team said it was the fourth town in South Australia they had provided assistance to this year.

"It's a nice little country town," they said of Millicent.

Call for funding

By Charlotte Varcoe

The State Government has missed the mark on mobile blackspot funding and more specific road spending, according to Member for MacKillop Nick McBride.

Following the release of the State Government's 2022-2023 budget last week, Mr McBride said it did not address issues such as mobile-phone blackspots or roads like previous budgets and focused heavily on health.

The MacKillop electorate received $8m over four years for the Naracoorte Hospital, $750,000 for the first half of 2023 for the Keith and District Hospital with a further $1.5m per annum from 2023-2024 to 2025-2026, and a new 12-hour regional ambulance crew based at Keith.

A further $6.6m will be allocated over two years from 2022-2023 to complete intersection upgrades at the Teys Australia Abattoir and QUBE Logistics Depot, both near Naracoorte.

Mr McBride said the Naracoorte-specific intersection funding was a continuation of the previous Government's commitment for the township.

"This announcement is part of the rollout from the previous Government and the turn-off lane was part of our project but I am happy to see the current State Government continue that," Mr McBride said.

"I do think the community may be a little frustrated in the sense that the budget doesn't talk about roads as clearly as they need to nor (mobile phone) blackspots at this stage because I believe if you cannot communicate in an emergency there is an issue."

He said it would be interesting for the community to find out if further road upgrades may come to the region as a part of the state-wide funding agreement.

"Compared to last year's budget I think this one is really specific to health but that does not address other issues such as the (mobile phone) blackspots and roads and there is little emphasis on education and bringing school teachers into the regions," he said.

Member for Barker Tony Pasin has been appointed by Opposition Leader Peter Dutton as an Assistant Minister.

Pasin given promotion

Member for Barker Tony Pasin has been appointed Shadow Assistant Minister for Infrastructure and Transport by the Leader of the Opposition, Peter Dutton.

"As someone who drives over 100,000kms a year mostly on rural roads and who, as a local member, represents local industries who rely heavily on the efficient movement of goods to market, I understand how important this portfolio is for Australians and our national economy," Mr Pasin said.

"The Coalition came to Government in 2013 committing to build the roads of the 21st century and over the ensuing eight and a half years invested record sums into infrastructure projects right across the nation helping to drive economic growth and prosperity.

"The challenge for the newly elected government is to maintain that momentum.

"I am particularly conscious of ensuring the newly elected government continues to invest in the rural, regional and remote infrastructure task.

"Much of our nation's prosperity relies on building metropolitan congestion busting infrastructure and connecting rural Australians and their industries to their fellow Australians and the domestic and international markets they rely on."

Mr Pasin said he looks forward to working closely with Senator Bridget McKenzie, Shadow Minister for Infrastructure, Transport and Regional Development.

NEWS

The last ADF clinical team of Private Shannon Digance, Lance Corporal Michaela Stringer, and Private Ashlynn Fraser ended their week long stay at Boneham Aged Care Services on Sunday.

Thanks to troops

With no new Covid-19 cases among its residents in the last week, and staff returning following a swathe of Covid cases throughout the Millicent community, Boneham Aged Care Services (BACS) is grateful to the Australian Defence Force (ADF) which has assisted the facility and the efforts of remaining staff.

Over the last three weeks, BACS has battled and contained an outbreak of cases among its residents to a total of nine, while staff numbers have been constantly eroded with a total of 70 staff absent at some time during the period - with Covid or as a close contact of a Covid case - representing half the facility's workforce.

While the remaining staff put in an extraordinary effort to cover the shifts of their absent co-workers, they were assisted by ADF personnel who came to Millicent to help BACS through its Covid induced rough patch.

A total of 11 ADF personnel in three teams over the three week period assisted at BACS.

The first team was a general duties team of five, which was followed by a three member clinical team of navy personnel followed by a final clinical team of three army nurses from Adelaide.

The final team finished their last shift on Sunday, heralding the beginning of BACS returning to as normal as possible in the current Covid environment.

Chief Executive Officer of BACS, Michael Filsell was appreciative of the ADF's assistance.

"They were a wonderful addition to our staff; they supported our residents and our staff and lifted morale during their stay," Mr Filsell said.

"The residents responded positively to their presence; it's something they don't see every day."

Mr Filsell also praised the efforts of staff who had stepped up to the challenge and worked on a 12 hour shift roster.

"Staff have been fantastic," Mr Filsell said also thanking residents and the family of residents for their support through this period.

"We have an amazing group of workers; they always put their hand up and I am constantly reiterating to the board and others how lucky we are to have a staff cohort like we have."

Mr Filsell said the efforts of staff and the organisational measures put in place had helped to ensure the number of Covid cases among its residents was limited to single numbers in a situation where Covid had swept through the Millicent community and affected many businesses in the area with staff shortages common.

However, he said the facility would remain vigilant, PCR testing would continue on an as needs basis and some requirements would remain in place including all visitors must have a RAT test beforehand and must be up to date with their Covid vaccinations and have had a 2022 flu jab. Masks must be worn and visits will be limited to the resident's room and not be allowed in common areas.

Cemetery expansion nearly complete

After two years of work, expansion of Millicent's Lawn Cemetery is nearing completion and is expected to allow for the next 50 years of burials.

The $50,000 project by Wattle Range Council has allowed for a new irrigated lawn area, extra marked sealed carparks between the existing and new section, and a ringed bitumen road around the new area with an exit road leading to the existing sealed cemetery carpark.

Work also includes the creation of a secondary unsealed large parking area near the cemetery's toilets.

The new lawn expansion area is on the southwesterly side of the cemetery, towards Vorwerk Road, and the works involved the removal of several rows of blue gums and a significant amount of rubble to level the area.

Council's Director of Engineering Services, Peter Halton said some of the trees were used as part of the nature play development in Millicent's Domain area.

"The material (rubble) removed was good gravel which has been used for resheeting Cannunda Frontage Road," Mr Halton said.

"So it's a win win situation.

"The works also involved the sealing of some of the internal roadway and creation of some parking adjacent to the new area which is felt important improvements for those visiting the site."

A small amount of the rubble has been left in the cemetery area for possible future works there, and the creation of a flattened unsealed area near the cemetery toilets immediately adjacent the new area is hoped to be used as a carpark in preference to parking on Mount Gambier Road.

"As the current sealed carpark isn't big enough for some of the larger funerals, it is anticipated with the development of this additional area people will be able to park on-site which is much safer than parking on Mount Gambier Road; additional signage will be installed to encourage this use," Mr Halton said.

The unsealed area would also provide for future expansion of the cemetery after the new area is filled.

Mr Halton said the plan currently is for the new area to be fully completed in early 2023; a new concrete beam is still to be installed, on which the cemetery plaques can be placed, and a gabion stone wall installed on the exit ramp of the new area.

"At this time it is anticipated the area will be needed noting burials are staggered across the site to prevent cave-ins."

Recalling Queen's visit

By Caroline Hammat

"We could almost have touched it [the Royals' vehicle] as it came through the gate, we were so close," said Millicent resident Marlene Fennell, with vivid memories of Queen Elizabeth II when she visited the South East in 1954.

It was just two years after she ascended the throne and 68 years later the Queen is now celebrating 70 years, making her the longest reigning British monarch in history.

The Platinum Jubilee this year revives memories of the newly crowned Queen when Mount Gambier was part of her tour to Australia.

Ms Fennell was 11 years old at the time and she and her younger sister Carolyn Read were part of a large contingent of school children from around the South East, including from Millicent, to be part of a crowd said to be as large as 50,000 people who gathered in Mount Gambier to see the Queen.

"We were all so excited because this new young Queen of England had come to visit Australia; we all wanted to see the Duke as well because we thought he was handsome," said Ms Fennell.

The visit caused great excitement among the population as Queen Elizabeth II was the first reigning British monarch to visit Australia and preparations by the Millicent School, of which Ms Fennell was a student, began months before the monarch's tour to the region.

When the day arrived, students were uniformly dressed, all wearing white shirts and blue forage caps; the girls in red skirts and the boys in grey trousers.

Grade 1 and 2 students were dressed in white and were to form the word 'Welcome' alongside a large map of Australia outlined by the older students on the oval at Mount Gambier's Vansittart Park where the Queen was to later deliver a speech to the thousands of on-lookers gathered there.

Ms Fennell said the school welfare club members helped make the skirts for some parents with the material purchased in bulk, measured and cut for sewing with patterns supplied for the mums who could sew.

"It was the 26th of February and we all met up at the school where the Family History Group is now," Ms Fennell began with her memories of the day the Queen arrived.

"We walked down to the railway station [in Millicent] when the train came in from Mount Gambier.

"It was an old steam train and they disconnected the engine to bring it around to tow the carriages back.

"As he [the train driver] was backing back it [the train] jumped the tracks.

"We had to wait for another engine to come all the way from Mount Gambier to Millicent to draw the carriages back up.

"The kids kept running down to look at the engine and I remember the wheels in the dirt had sliced right in.

"The mothers were trying to get us back because we had white blouses on, they wanted to keep us clean."

For the young children it was a long wait but eventually a second engine arrived to pull the carriages out of the Millicent Station.

Arriving at the Mount Gambier Railway Station, the students left their bags at a nearby primary school and were marched to Vansittart Park where the large map of Australia was formed by students.

"The Millicent School had to stand in Queensland on the coastline north of Brisbane and while we were doing it [the formation] the Queen's plane flew over and around the Blue Lake.

"When they [Her Majesty and the Duke of Edinburgh] came in from the airport, she came through the top gate at Vansittart Park in a brown/green open Land Rover, we could almost have touched it as it came through the gate, we were so close."

'Devil is in the detail' says MacKillop MP on Budget

"The overall spending sum for the Limestone Coast compared to last year is positive but the devil is in the detail."

Speaking on the funding for Naracoorte Hospital, Mr McBride welcomed the commitment but said further funding to entice doctors and general practitioners to the region was also needed.

"A large amount of the funding in the Limestone Coast has been spent on ambulances and paramedics which will be well received around our region as our volunteer system has been very thin on the ground," he said.

"But there's no point in having the Naracoorte Hospital upgraded if there are no doctors or general practitioners there."

In relation to the hospital upgrade, Mr McBride said a priority would be to update some of the hospital rooms as well as the co-located aged care sector.

"The hospital won't be expected to be finished until 2026 but it is a step in the right direction and is a good spend to upgrade a tired hospital, yet how much can be done with the amount of money and where it lands in the hospital we are not sure," Mr McBride said.

"We need more than this to bring the hospital into a modern facility rather than the tired facility it is now."

He said the Keith and District Hospital would remain as a private hospital as it had never had the funding to operate as a public hospital which would remain an issue.

However, Mr McBride said the funding sum of $1.5m for a number of years after 2023 was better than the board and project officer's annual budget of between $700,000 and $900,000.

"We are hoping the funding allocated in the budget is for more services and medical practitioners than under previous Governments," he said.

Member for MacKillop Nick McBride wanted additional funding for mobile phone blackspots in State budget.

Novelist's book launched

By Caroline Hammat

From her hobby farm at Narrawong in Victoria, Maya Linnell returned to the region last week as part of her latest book launch tour for the fourth and final book in her debut series of novels published through Allen and Unwin.

Launching 'Paperbark Hill' at the Millicent Library, Ms Linnell was joined by long term friend and ABC Radio Presenter Rebekah Lowe, also formerly of Millicent, as they chatted about the book in front of an appreciative audience of about 90 guests.

Talking to The South Eastern Times before the event Ms Linnell explained the books are linked but stand-alone with each book telling the story of one of four sisters.

"If people pick up Paperbark Hill they glean little bits of information from previous books but it can be read alone and in any order, it doesn't matter at all," Ms Linnell said.

"Some people actually read them all again before the new book comes out which is amazing and they probably know the characters better than me."

Ms Linnell has strong connections with the region having been raised in Tantanoola and regularly visiting with family members who still live in the South East.

A former South Eastern Times journalist, Ms Linnell began her cadetship with the newspaper in 2002 crediting her background in regional journalism as great training and discipline for becoming a novelist.

"The transition was really good because I knew how to work with words, I had done the training and knew what was the unique angle of the story and what was the filler stuff that doesn't need to go in," she said.

"How to draw your reader in, you only have a short space of time to do that with the newspaper articles, you've got more time in your book but you still need to keep the reader's attention.

'Paperbark Hill' book launch: Maya prepares for the start of her 'Conversation with Maya' event held at the Millicent Library last Friday night.

"I've felt so supported by the South East and having that connection from writing other people's stories to people now following the stories I'm writing on fictional characters.

"It's a perfect breeding ground for a novelist, to work for the local paper, you couldn't really ask for a better start."

Ms Linnell works from her home and structures her writing around the demands of family, farm life and blogging responsibilities.

"Writing the first two novels I was very disciplined and then we had pretty well two years of lockdown in Victoria and the kids were being home schooled much of that time, that threw a spanner in the works for the writing of the next two books," she said.

"But I'm back in the structure now, it's getting use to making it the priority of the day.

A novel approach: Author Maya Linnell launched her new novel at the Millicent Library in a Conversational event with fellow former resident, Rebekah Lowe.

"If you don't do the words you don't get to do the fun stuff like go out in the garden or go and make some biscuits.

"Sometimes when I'm finding it hard to focus I'll drive the car down the paddock and have no wifi, no phone, just the laptop and me and the sheep who come up to the car.

"It's amazing how productive just a bare paddock is, usually when I'm getting to the pointy end of the first draft is when I'll go into the paddock office."

Ms Linnell has already completed the first draft of her fifth book which is the start of a new series that follows a group of friends.

"It's fun and daunting to start a new series because you lose that familiarity and the characters you've worked with already, you don't know who's going to walk in the door," she said.

"Certainly a bit more difficult in some respects, but liberating in others."

The fifth book is already contracted to her publisher Allen and Unwin and they have indicated they are really happy with Ms Linnell becoming a book a year author for the top five publishing company.

Grant for wombats to move into new pen

By Caroline Hammat

Wildlife carer Narelle Marshall, from Duck-A-Roo Native Animal Sanctuary near Nora Creina, has recently become the beneficiary of a $4,400 Community Bank Robe and Districts (CBR&D) grant to fund a wombat transition pen for young animals. The new pen is for young wombats who are not ready for a large enclosure already on site, but are becoming too big and boisterous for care within Ms Marshall's house.

Ms Marshall received support from her neighbours, Barry and Wendy Brain, who put pen to paper for the time poor wildlife carer and applied for the grant.

"The neighbours put forward what we were going to build and how much it would cost, lo and behold they (CBR&D) said 'we'll fund that,'" said Ms Marshall.

"My neighbours have had quite a bit of experience with this sort of thing because they've worked with sanctuaries in Victoria and have seen the results, where I thought they'll never pick me, it's too hard." CBR&D's branch manager, Tracey Bainger, was pleased the bank was able to assist with the new pen.

"We appreciate the volunteer work Narelle does, I've used her personally when I've found sick or injured wildlife and she has been amazing; if she can't help she

Approval to demolish servo

An application to demolish the 'card only' Ampol service station on Mount Gambier Road in Millicent has been approved. Permission to demolish the service station was granted on February 2 following an application lodged in January this year requesting the decommissioning and demolition of all buildings on 218 and 220 Mount Gambier Road, Millicent, which includes the petrol station. Ampol confirmed the plans earlier this year.

"Subject to approval of the development application, the Ampol site at 220 Mount Gambier Road, Millicent, will undergo demolition and remediation works to prepare the land for sale," an Ampol spokesperson said in February.

"Pending approval of the development application, the demolition will include the removal of all infrastructure, and the remediation works will address the contaminated soil.

"It is expected that the works will be completed in the next 12 months."

Approval has been given for the demolition of the Mount Gambier Road Ampol service station, known as the Pines Service Station, in Millicent.

Choosing a book from the 'little library' is Erin Kuchel of Penola.

Phone box book swap

By Kathy Fennell

The red phone box in Penola's town square is not for making phone calls from but is home to a range of books for the public to share.

The 'little town library' is a huge attraction to both locals and tourists.

The Penola Country Women's Association (CWA) instigated the idea in 2018 when the Penola Men's Shed built a small timber construction to house some books for people to read.

A couple of years later the Penola Branch of National Trust donated an old telephone box which was situated in Petticoat Lane and was starting to become dilapidated.

David Smith restored it and members of the Men's Shed fitted it out with shelving and painted it.

The library is maintained by the Penola CWA with members often refilling it with books.

CWA member Dr Anne Johnson said: "Quite often you will see a mother and child collect a book from the library and sit in the town square and read it.

"The turnover of books is amazing."

The Penola CWA is part of 'Street Library Australia' and there are thousands of these little libraries all over Australia.

They come in all shapes, sizes and colours and are well supported in all areas.

Dr Johnston said: "Children's books are extremely popular and now and then we need to do a stock up."

"If anyone has any books they would like to donate it would be greatly appreciated.

"It is a great attraction for our town and we are very proud of our 'little library' in the town square," Dr Johnson said.

Community information sign funding received

By Caroline Hammat

The Mount Burr Trails group has been successful in securing a $950 Australia Post People of Post grant, to install an informative sign in the town centre.

The installation site of the sign is still to be confirmed and input will be sought from community members and Wattle Range Council on both the site and the final content to be included on the sign.

Jackie Wells, Postal Assistant at the Mount Burr Australia Post site, nominated the group for the grant.

After successfully nominating the Mount Burr Football and Netball Club in the 2021 round of funding, Ms Wells was unsure how successful they would be this year.

"I thought I'd give it a go because they've done so much work out there, it looks amazing and it's great for the town," said Ms Wells.

"I did the paperwork my side which involved who I wanted to nominate and why, and I just conversed with Rob (Gordon) who took it to his committee to see what they might like to put it towards and they came up with the kiosk type suggestion."

Public officer of the Mount Burr Trails group, Rob Gordon, explained the group would like to see a town map with points of interest adding: "We would put further information about each point, perhaps historic markers and interpretive signs that link to some kind of around the town trail generally and a brief history of the township.

"The sign will be somewhere central and I think it will form part of a town centre, a meeting place if you like, it will be the hub of the community area and there is an opportunity to further landscape the area.

"It will direct people to the trails along with other points of interest."

Ms Wells was pleased her nomination will help the group saying: "It's great to be successful; at the moment there is no real signage, it's all word of mouth, driving into the town you wouldn't really know where to go.

"They (Mount Burr Trails) have certainly got a diligent lot of volunteers out doing stuff which is wonderful, anything that brings people in to the town is good, I'm glad they were successful."

Gentleman of Mensland

Obituary

When Ron Jones passed away earlier this year he left behind a legacy of a large and close family, and he will be fondly remembered by the wider community as a much loved former retail identity in Millicent.

From 1981 to 1997 Mr Jones owned and operated Millicent's menswear shop - then called Ron Jones Mensland - with his wife Marilyn but this was only part of his contribution to the area which was outlined by members of his family in a eulogy delivered at his funeral, graveside at the Millicent Cemetery on February 11.

Ronald David Jones was born at Mount Gambier on November 28, 1939, to Frank and Ella Jones, farmers of Tantanoola.

The family later grew to include Ron's sister, Kaye (now Bignell, of Beachport).

He attended Tantanoola Primary School and then Millicent High School.

Growing up on the family farm at Tantanoola, his love for sheep and cattle continued throughout his life, and he always had a dog, his last being Missie whom he loved dearly and is now Marilyn's companion.

Stories of rabbiting at Lake Bonney with his mates, and summers spent fishing at Beachport, filled his youth while his eulogy also recounted a story of his car being hit by a train when it stalled on the railway tracks at Bur-rungule, with Ron and a mate running down the track trying in vain to stop the train.

The wreck of that car still sits in his parents' paddock.

When Ron left high school, he began his working life as a farmhand, followed by driving trucks with his father, and later driving his own truck.

In 1965, Cellulose became his next workplace where he was a foreman, followed by a short stint as a sales representative for Cellulose Applied Chemicals after gaining his Diploma as an Analytical Chemist in 1973.

He worked as a storeman at SAFCOL after he left Cellulose in 1978 before purchasing Millicent's menswear shop in 1981 from Bob Plew.

During the 16 years operating Ron Jones Mensland, he was respected by many and often people would call into the shop just for a chat.

He was well known for other activities including planting trees around the community for more than 30 years for which Ron was awarded Gold Membership to Trees for Life.

He was also a member of the Millicent Rotary Club for many years and was an injury trainer for junior players of the Tantanoola Football Club.

In his retirement he particularly loved fishing and spent a lot of time in his boat, with friends and family, fishing along the Glenelg River.

But his greatest love was his family, first and foremost his wife of 61 years, Marilyn.

Marilyn (nee Heidenreich) came to the South East from Tanunda and nursed at the old Mount Gambier hospital.

On a night out with her nursing colleagues, Marilyn met Ron and his friend Trevor Bignell at a dance in Mil-lel where both the boys took turns at asking Marilyn to dance.

Ron obviously won that competition and the couple were married in 1961, returning to Marilyn's hometown of Tanunda for the wedding. The couple began their life together at Tantanoola in June Cottage (which Ron had purchased from his grandfather, Dave Randall) where Marilyn still lives.

They had three children, Susie, David and Maryanne. There are seven grandchildren being Wayne, Andrew, Kirstie, Zac, Jami, Casey and Chantelle, and ten great grandchildren being Jaycie, Lexi, Kenzie, Connor, Emily, Kailee, Myla, Eryn, Kiara and Ned.

Sadly, in his later years, Ron developed dementia and he passed away on February 1, aged 82.

Lone Magpie Goose at Lake McIntyre

Millicent's Lake McIntyre is currently home to a solitary Magpie Goose, normally found in northern Australia and southern New Guinea.

The Magpie Goose arrived at the lake in March and bird enthusiasts and Lake McIntyre volunteers say the bird has spent all of its time at the lake since then.

"One of our volunteers noticed it seemed to be spending a great deal of time quite close by to our pair of black swans that had managed to breed successfully, rearing five cygnets," said volunteer Sheila Boyle.

"The goose was in fact sighted defending off swamp-hens and other birds that came a bit too close to the cygnets.

"This seemed like unusual behaviour to those that sighted it on more than one occasion.

"I'm sure he thinks he is a swan."

Unusual resident at Millicent's Lake McIntyre - usually found in more northerly areas, a solitary Magpie Goose is calling Lake McIntyre home.

Cousin catchup: Frank Brennan (right) shares the photo of the Millicent Royal Blues of 1925 football premiers with his Aunt Mary McCourt (seated right) and first cousins Kate McCormick, Michael Von Einem, Jamie McCourt, Jacinta Pearce and Bernie Bowman holding her grandson Rufus.

The history of Brennans

By Caroline Hammat

About 60 people recently heard former Wattle Range Council chief executive officer, Frank Brennan talk about his family's ancestry and his long association with the District Council of Millicent and Wattle Range Council.

Held at the Millicent Public Library, Mr Brennan's talk began with the migration to Australia by his Irish Great Great Grandfather, Thomas Brennan in 1855 at the age of 28.

It didn't take long for Mr Brennan's forebear to make his way to Millicent where he married Mary Kennedy in 1857 and had seven children.

This would be the start of five generations of the Brennan family living in Millicent.

One of those seven children, Mr Brennan's Great Grandfather, John Richard, lived in the family home on the corner of Aberle Street and Park Terrace with his wife Bridget and eight children.

Mr Brennan's lineage takes an interesting turn when his grandfather Frank married Veronica Shergool in 1935.

Veronica's father was an Afghan and former sergeant in His Majesty's 30th Regiment.

With Mr Brennan explaining Veronica's unusual surname: "My Nanna's surname on official documents is Shergool, being an amalgamation of her father's first name 'Sher' and surname 'Gool'."

"Sher was known by the nickname 'George', no-one called him Sher."

After emigrating to Australia Mr Brennan's maternal great grandfather, 'George' Sher Gool, worked as a cameleer for the South Australian Government Geologist before dying from typhoid fever in 1909.

Mr Brennans' grandmother Veronica had also contracted typhoid fever at the same time but survived to marry and have three children of her own, one of which was Mr Brennan's father Francis.

Mr Brennan's parents Francis and Maureen married and had four children, and moved to Callendale when he was two years old.

He attended Lucindale Area School until Year 8 and moved to Sacred Heart College as a boarder from 1971-1974.

It was his Uncle Don McDonnell, Mayor of the City of Mount Gambier (1983-2002), who advised him there was a career in local government and encouraged Mr Brennan to study for a Diploma in Town Planning, graduating in 1978.

Story to tell: Frank Brennan shares his story with a crowd of around 60 people at a recent history talk in the Millicent Library's history room.

The diploma led to a three month position surveying road and stormwater design with the District Council of Millicent and soon after a fulltime position on the council's outside workforce as a construction and maintenance worker.

The work included general labouring, tractor driving, garbage truck runner and grave digging.

"I enjoyed the tractor driving and at the time we were bringing up the Millicent aerodrome for seal as it used to be a dirt strip," Mr Brennan said.

"The late Pat Kennedy from Glencoe was there and he said to me while we were having smoko - do you want to learn how to drive a grader?"

The young Mr Brennan jumped at the opportunity and Mr Kennedy said he'd give him a few lessons after smoko and see how things go.

The grader proved different to modern machines: "It had hydraulic levers all over the place and the accelerator was a de-accelerator."

"I jumped on it and he (Mr Kennedy) was sitting in the cabin with me, he said - do this, do that, shift the blades."

"We had gone about 300 yards and he said - just pull up and stop here."

Asking what to do next Mr Kennedy replied: "Get off, you'll never be a grader driver."

This did nothing to hinder Mr Brennan's 34 year long career with both the District Council of Millicent and the Wattle Range Council which included 25 years as Chief Executive Officer.

Building more life skills

By Kathy Fennell

Owners of the Joanna Life Skills Centre, Rob and Carol Canala-Coleman, have worked tirelessly over the past few years to renovate and prepare the facility to be able to provide care and support to disability and mental health participants.

“When we purchased the property it was very run down and had been vacant for two years,” said Ms Canala-Coleman.

“It’s been a slow progress renovating each of the houses.

“Most of the plumbing and electrical work on each house had to be replaced.

“Apart from from when we required specialist people in to help, we have done the work ourselves.

“We have self funded the massive project and are very proud of what we have achieved so far.”

The Centre, situated north east of Penola on 101 acres of beautiful tranquil landscapes with scattered trees, native birds, animals and a homely atmosphere, is the perfect place for those needing some peace and quiet and time to help with their individual issues.

“I first worked at the Glenside Psychiatric Hospital in Adelaide as a cleaner in 1984 and when I saw how vulnerable people were I knew I had to choose mental health as my career,” Ms Canala-Coleman said.

“I started my nursing studies at Uni SA in 1991 however, after two years, had to put it on hold due to family commitments and returned to complete my Bachelor of Nursing in 2005 at Flinders Hospital and then went on to complete a post graduate in mental health at Flinders in 2008,” she said.

In mid 2008 Carol opened a boarding house for vulnerable people and experienced the positive effects the environment, along with support, has on a person’s overall health and wellbeing.

Carol has worked extensively with complex clients and has seen many cases of people affected by mental illness and drug and alcohol issues.

“Much of that experience came from working with great staff at Western Community Mental Health in the Mobile Assertive Care Team which provided intensive care to very complex clients, completing assessments, checking client’s mental state, attending medical and psychiatric appointments, administering injections and medication, liaising with housing, public trustee, guardianship, and many other supports to ensure people were cared for.”

The couple came across the property at Joanna through a friend and knew immediately that this is where they needed to relocate.

“We purchased the property in 2017 and it was the perfect size and in a perfect location,” Ms Canala-Coleman said.

“The property is far enough away from anywhere but also close enough if need be.”

The facility can accommodate 22 participants with 25 single and share rooms across multiple dwellings as well as a commercial kitchen, hall, tennis court, oval, and recreation room with a large television, games, books and other activities.

“We even have a pamper room,” she said.

The couple would also like to establish programs including literacy, buddying and mentoring and any offers would be most welcome.

“The relaxed environment is the ideal place for people to participate in skill building activities, which promote personal resilience, self confidence, self esteem and enable people to enjoy an increased level of functioning,” she said.

The centre is also a registered NDIS provider and offers 24/7 support to disability and mental health participants. Respite, medium term, SIL (Supported Independent Living) accommodation and day activities are available.

The fee structure is based on the NDIS price guide. Individual assessment is made for non NDIS.

Referrals to the Centre can be made by health professionals, support workers, family, friends or by self-referral.

“Some people may come to the Centre to get their lives back on track,” Ms Canala-Coleman said.

“It’s about choice and wanting change and it is our aim to help participants become more independent and able to live their best life.

“It is our aim to help participants be able to function better, build their independence and skills, self esteem and confidence.

“However, clients must want to be here and must be able to help themselves.

“If they don’t want to help themselves we can’t help them.

“It is very rewarding to see the improvement of participants while they are here and hopefully they will move forward in their journey of life.”

The Penola Pennant spoke to three participants and they said how they felt extremely safe and relaxed at the Centre.

They said there is a lot to do both indoors and outdoors and that they just take one step at a time.

The Centre would welcome any community support.

“We would love to form an advisory committee of local people,” Ms Canala-Coleman said.

“Local people are the ones who are going through the heartache of watching family members suffer the effects of disability, mental illness, drug and alcohol problems.

“Our motto has always been ‘Together we can’.”

High flying Eagles event

By Kathy Fennell

A goods and services auction dinner at the Penola Sports Club on Saturday night raised a record $105,000.

Organised by a small committee of Darren Maney (chair), Kim Wilson, Sam Hill, John and Adam Merrett, Marcus Devereaux, Tom Pearce, Loren Jenkins, Sally Skeer, Hayden Lambert, John Lambert and Shaun Minge, the evening was attended by more than 200 people.

This is the major fundraiser for the club and was the tenth auction to be held with the event being held every two years.

"We are absolutely overwhelmed with the amount raised and with the support of the community and the generous sponsors," said Mr Maney.

"We don't like to ask the local main street businesses as they already donate to many other clubs and organisations, so our auction items come from donations from Mount Gambier, Naracoorte and the Penola rural community."

Some of the items auctioned included meat, holidays, firewood, electrical and plumbing services, accounting services, wine, household items, hotel and meal vouchers, health treatments and much more.

The highest winning bid was for a trip to Melbourne for eight people to attend the Chairman's Club at Flemington Racecourse which reached $8200.

There were 80 items auctioned along with 27 silent auction items.

Auctioneers on the night were Darren Maney, Shaun Minge, Hayden Lambert and Jack Schultz.

The money raised will be split between the football and netball clubs.

Darren said: "It was absolutely fantastic to see a large group of people get together and enjoying the great atmosphere again, with Covid-19 having a huge impact on that from not happening in the past couple of years."

The football club ladies catered for the three course meal assisted by local butcher David Meek.

It is planned for another auction to be held in 2024.

When the Queen visited

With Queen Elizabeth II presently celebrating her Platinum Jubilee it is timely to remember that just two years after her accession to the British throne she became the first and only reigning British monarch ever to visit Australia and she included the South East on that tour.

At the end of February 1954, Her Majesty and The Duke flew into Mount Gambier making it the couple's first stop in South Australia.

The Royal Couple's route down Bay Road and Commercial Street was lined with thousands of people and more gathered at Vansittart Park, where the Queen made a speech.

She also planted a tree - one of only three planted during her visit to Australia - in The Lakes area.

Despite her stay lasting only two hours, such was the Queen's popularity the crowd was said to be up to 50,000 people, the largest ever to gather in Mount Gambier.

The South Eastern Times and Penola Pennant of the day reported on the event, filling their front pages with news and photographs reflecting the magnitude of the event to their respective communities.

The Penola Pennant reported that Penola became a "ghost town" as people left the town to go to the event, while hundreds of cars passed through the town also on their way to the event for 24 hours prior to the event as people jostled for a good vantage point to see the Queen.

Each town was provided an area along the Royal route to gather for the event.

These areas were called Strong Posts.

Penola's strong post was reported as being decorated with ivy and hydrangeas, while Millicent Council Staff had arrived early in the morning to set up Millicent's strong post with flags and a banner, and people viewed the procession from the flat beds of trucks.

Other town strong posts included those for Tantanoola, Mount Burr, Beachport and Robe. Special invitations to be presented to The Queen and The Duke were made to local council representatives including Penola Council's chairman and his wife, Mr and Mrs RR Rymill, and Millicent Council chairman and his wife, Mr and Mrs JA Sullivan.

The Millicent Caledonian Pipe Band was also part of the proceedings as were members of the Penola Coonawarra RSL.

The two front pages of the Penola Pennant and The South Eastern Times from that time are reprinted here.

Forward 68 years and Queen Elizabeth II celebrates 70 years on the throne, making her the longest reigning British monarch in history.

Scouts plan adventures

By Kathy Fennell

The Penola Scout Group is alive and well with a registration of three cubs and nine scouts by the end of this term.

Group leader in charge of adults, Judy Mountford said: “ Two cubs are in transition from cubs to scouts.

“We have a program set that evolves around their interests.

“It is based on things that they want to learn which enables them to go up to the next level.”

Other leaders include Katherine Hunter (cubs), Michelle Barry and Nathan Stanley (scouts).

The group meet each Wednesday from 4.30pm to 6pm at the Scout Hall in Riddoch Street.

“We recently went on a caving adventure at the Naracoorte Caves which was a very basic course with another adventure planned next term which will be a step up,” Judy said.

The group is gearing up for the District camp which is to be held later this month at the Wattle Range Community grounds.

Other Scout groups from Naracoorte, Lucindale and Mount Gambier will join the Penola group for the three day event.

The theme for the weekend is ‘Survival Skills’.

Learning to tie knots are Emily Goodes and Clancy Eastwood.

One of the activities will be a Masterchef competition where each group will cook a three course meal over an open fire.

Other activities will include disc golf, first aid skills, erecting a tent from inside out, and making camping gadgets.

Age categories are five to eight years for Jo-eyes, eight to 11.5 years for Cubs, 11.5 years to 15 years for Scouts and over 15 years for Venturers.

Penola has two Venturers, Ebony Wurst and Will Goodes.

If anyone is interested in joining they can contact Judy Mountford on 0417 831 442.

All ready at Scouts are Michelle Barry, Nathan Stanley and Katherine Hunter.

YOUR WEEKLY TV GUIDE

PICK OF THE WEEK

DIRAY
SBS, Thursday, 9.40pm

You may recognise star Parminder Nagra (pictured) from her breakout role in Bend It Like Beckham, or in ER. In this four-part British series, premiering tonight, Nagra delves into the genre of police drama. Produced by Line of Duty's Jed Mercurio and written by Maya Sondhi, who starred in Mercurio's cult series, it offers a slightly different take on the well-worn and well-loved police procedural. After a transfer, Birmingham detective Rachita Ray is handed a "culturally specific homicide", involving the apparent honour killing of a Muslim man. Confronted with prejudice and racism from within her ranks, Ray's investigation is, of course, far from straightforward. It's a slow grind.

WHAT'S ON THE BOX?

THE DOG HOUSE
10, Saturday, 7pm

Besides inventive, quirky pet names, you can count on the pulling-on-heartstrings factor in this UK series following people's journeys adopting a dog. Season three kicks off tonight with a new batch of hopeful dogs and humans who are awaiting their shared destiny. Londoners Roshni and Jay meet two very different dogs: Bella, a confident and fun-loving staffie, and Cech, an introverted but cuddly terrier. Meanwhile, funeral workers Amy and Alex want to rescue a dog and blind spaniel Olivia may just be "the one".

LAW & ORDER: ORGANIZED CRIME
Nine, Tuesday, 10.40pm

This SVU spin-off sees Christopher Meloni (pictured) reprise his role as volatile Detective Elliot Stabler. After a decade away trying to rebuild his life following a personal loss, the intense enforcer of justice has been kept busy in this second season as a bearded undercover agent attempting to infiltrate an Albanian drug ring. In this episode, Stabler, his partner Ayanna Bell (Danielle Moné Truitt) and the highly capable Organized Crime Bureau must work swiftly after a deadly bombing rocks the NYPD and leaves several suspects in the wind.

GOOD SAM
10, Wednesday, 9.40pm

A one-season wonder, this medical procedural flatlined in the US, so it's best to think of it as a limited series. The drama follows heart surgeon Dr Sam Griffith (Sophia Bush, pictured), who is promoted to Head of Cardiothoracic Surgery after her boss (Jason Isaacs) falls into a coma. When he wakes up months later, and demands his old job back, Sam is assigned to supervise his work. Complicating things further is the fact the egotistical surgeon happens to be her father. Audiences hungry for House-style diagnoses of mysterious illnesses may find something to latch onto here.

Spacious design: The new Land Rover Defender 130 can carry eight in comfort.

Room for all: Interior storage space for the new Land Rovers can hold up to 389 litres with all seatbacks in place.

The long ride Defender

By Alistair Kennedy, Marque Motoring

After a gap of nearly six years, Land Rover has returned the long-wheelbase 130 version to the Defender range alongside the shorter 110 and 90 models.

As has been the long-standing tradition the numbers refer to the vehicles' approximate wheelbase lengths in inches.

At just under 5.4 metres in length the 130 is an eight-seater in 2-3-3 format with the second and third rows raised slightly above each other.

This together with large windows and twin sunroofs contribute to an airy interior and excellent visibility.

There are a number of exterior and interior design enhancements as well as a new colour palette specific to the 130.

These, together with the standard Bright Pack and optional Extended Bright Pack provide a variety of styling enhancements.

Two powertrains are available, both 3.0-litre six-cylinder Ingenium mild-hybrids.

The P400 petrol generates 294 kW and 550 Nm while the D300 diesel has outputs of 221 kW and 650 Nm.

Power is transferred through an eight-speed ZF transmission with Land Rover's Intelligent All-Wheel Drive (iAWD) system.

Off-road it uses Rover's Terrain Response system, which allows the driver to adjust to any terrain via an 11.4-inch the Pivi Pro infotainment touchscreen.

An Electronic Air Suspension system, controlled via a switch panel inside the tailgate, allows for up to 430 mm of articulation, with 71.5 mm of additional lift at the front (73.5 mm at the rear) and a maximum fording depth of 900 mm. Ground clearance is 290 mm.

Towing capacity is 3000 kg.

Storage space ranges from 389 litres with all seatbacks in place, expanding to 1232 litres with the third-row folded and 2291 when both rear seat rows are down.

Family buyers will be assured of maximum safety for the kids with five Isofix child-seat anchors including one in the front passenger seat.

New Defender 130 will come in SE trim only with the D300 priced at $124,150 and the P400 at $131,650, both plus on-road costs.

Delivery is expected from August 1, 2022.

Standard warranty is five years, unlimited kilometres with five-year roadside assistance.

Swedish carmaker offers Volvo XC90 in four grades

By Chris Riley, Marque Motoring

The XC90 is the largest of Volvo's three SUVs.

There are four grades: Momentum, Inscription, R-Design and the Recharge plugin hybrid.

The current model dates back to 2015, while Volvo has been upgrading the tech and gradually replacing the original powertrains with hybrid or plug-in hybrid setups.

One of the car's defining features is the large, vertically mounted tablet-style infotainment touchscreen from which the driver is able to control most of the functions of the vehicle.

Being a Volvo, safety and more recently reduced engine emissions are a given and receive a high priority as you work your way through the list of equipment.

Distinctive styling sets the XC apart from competitors.

The lines are clean and sharp, with lights that are unlike anything else on the road.

Prices start from $86,990 plus on-roads for the B5 Momentum, $96,990 for B5 Inscription, $98,990 for the B6 R-Design, and $116,990 for the Recharge Plug-in Hybrid.

Our R-Design test vehicle was also fitted with a number of accessories including the Advanced Air Cleaner ($500), Climate Pack ($700), Metallic paint ($2000), Perforated/Ventilated Nappa Leather Accented Seats ($3100), Air Suspension with Four-C Active Chassis ($3600) and Lifestyle Pack ($6650).

This brings the total price of the car to $117,040 plus on-roads.

The Climate Pack adds headlight cleaners, heated rear seat and a heated steering wheel, while the Lifestyle Pack comprises tinted rear windows, panoramic sunroof and the Bowers and Wilkins Premium Sound System.

Smooth edges: The XC90's lines are clean and sharp, with lights that are unlike anything else on the road.

Standard kit includes Nappa leather, metal mesh inlays, four-zone climate air, and power adjust heated driver and front passenger seats.

It has 22-inch double-spoke alloys, with automatic lights and wipers, auto-dimming rear view mirror, reverse parking with front and rear sensors, active cruise control, LED lights with automatic high/low beam, head-up display, road sign recognition, power tailgate, satellite navigation, wireless phone charging and road sign speed limit recognition.

The piece-de-resistance is the Bowers & Wilkins system, with 1400 watts and 15 speakers, including a really cool dash-mounted centre tweeter.

Four room modes including 'Concert hall' and 'Jazz club' allow you to recreate the acoustics of a specific room inside the car.

Rounding out the infotainment is a 9.0-inch vertical touch screen, smart phone integration with wi-fi hotspot, DAB+ digital radio, Bluetooth with audio streaming, in-car web apps, audio controls in steering wheel and navigation with voice control.

The mild hybrid has a 2.0-litre turbo-petrol engine, with support from an electric motor.

It produces 220kW of power and a useful 420Nm of torque, the latter between 2100 and 4800 rpm.

The all-wheel drive system is a part-timer, with drive available to all four wheels on demand via an eight-speed automatic.

Stop-start saves fuel when the vehicle comes to a stop.

Volvo XC90 scores a five-star safety rating, with seven airbags, autonomous emergency braking, lane support systems and speed assist systems.

There's a rear-view camera, excellent overhead camera, front and rear park sensors, built-in rear child booster seats, along with blind spot monitoring, forward collision warning, lane departure warning and lane keep assist.

The XC90 comes with the same powertrain options as the smaller XC60.

The XC90 weighs in at 2090kg, another 204kg more than the smaller SUV.

Throw in more passengers, remembering that XC90 is a seven-seater -- and all that extra weight could put a serious dent in the larger SUV's performance.

With a 71-litre tank, claimed fuel consumption is 8.2L/100km and it produces 186g of carbon per kilometre, and it takes 95 or 98 RON unleaded.

The electric motor provides boost for the petrol engine off the mark, but does not power the wheels directly.

Volvo calls it the E-charger and it is designed to compensate for the lag normally associated with turbocharged engines (the time it takes for the turbo to spool up).

The air suspension can alter ground clearance from 212 to 252 mm and for the most part works automatically.

As a place to spend time the cabin is quiet and comfy, with leather, climate air, metal mesh aluminium decor and an impressive sound system (worth the extra outlay).

There's plenty of leg, head and shoulder room, with a high-tech, configurable instrument cluster and large, easy to use touchscreen that controls pretty much everything.

The three second row seats adjust individually as well as sliding forward and aft as required, with an integrated child centre booster seat.

The two seats in the third row cater for passengers up to 170cm in height.

On a down note, this model misses out on the latest Google operating system that can be found in XC40 and XC60.

Servicing is every 15,000km or 12 months and two pre-paid service plans are available: three years/45,000km for $1500 or five years/75,000km for $2500.

The Volvo XC90 is a likeable car, with plenty of features and prestige.

The safety story is a strong one and Volvo is taking climate change very seriously.

It's reflected in its engine choices, with a target to fully electrify its fleet by 2030, with EVs earmarked to account for 50 per cent of sales by 2025.

Tantanoola's Jami Walker takes possession in front of Mount Burr's Heidi Guyett during Round 9 of Mid South East netball on Saturday.

Tigers claim win

Tantanoola 59 d Mount Burr 47
Tantanoola hosted Mount Burr in Round 9 of Mid South East netball and came away with a hard-fought victory.
The Mozzies won the toss and chose the centre pass which they utilised well through Ebony Clark, who put her side's first score on the board.
The Tigers responded much the same through Emma Gould, who wasted no time with the ball and shot her first goal.
The quarter then went goal-for-goal, with neither side giving an inch.
Just a solitary goal separated the two sides at the first break.
Neither side made changes going into the second quarter and the first half of it replicated the opening term.

It was the Tigers who were able to turn ball over with some impressive hands-over pressure in the goal circle by Tayla Rowe and some crucial rebounds which they were able to convert and take a 31-25 lead to the long break.
The third quarter did not disappoint, with both sides fighting hard for every ball.
Meg Fennell and Zoe Brown were able to move the ball quickly in attack and found each other on circle edge despite the efforts of the Tiger's mid-court defence, Kristy Varcoe and Madi Kelly, who made each possession hard.
An even quarter by both sides showed little change on the score board, with the Tigers up by seven and the final break.
Tantanoola came out firing in the final quarter with intent to score quickly through Gould.
Casey Walker found space on circle edge but with every ball contested by Mount Burr's Simone Westerman.
Mount Burr's Olivia Dean tried to shift momentum for her side with some crucial tips but down the other end Bromley and Rowe had the same idea.
Both sides battled hard all game, but it was the Tigers who took the points with a hard-fought 12-goal win.
Best players for the victors were Madison Kelly and Gould, with Dean and Madison Haggett best for Mount Burr.

Strong shooting sees Roosters victorious

Robe 66 d Nangwarry 29
The rain held off for much of the Mid South East netball Round 9 clash between Robe and Nangwarry at the coastal venue.
The visitors came out strong and scored the first three goals of the game to put the pressure on Roosters, who struggled to get a score on the board.
After five minutes the Roosters found their feet, slowed the pace of the game and began to make an impression.
Some inaccurate shooting from Nangwarry saw Robe in front by six goals at the first break.
The second quarter saw some strong circle work by the Robe goalies, with Tori Gluyas and Sarah Laurie moving well and shooting accurately, scoring 20 goals for the quarter.
Nangwarry's goalies Tahlia Wilson and Ange Pratt also shot accurately, only missing one goal between them for the quarter.
However, Robe stepped it up a notch and capitalised on their turnovers, with a strong 16-goal lead at the main break.
Robe continued to build on its lead in the third term, with some strong defensive pressure from Georgia Perkins and Ellen Ramke, who made the most of any rebound available and picking off lots of balls at any opportunity.
However, Ramke came off halfway through the quarter with an injury and Kimberley Austin took the court.
With some more accurate shooting from Gluyas, the Roosters held a 27-goal lead at the final break.
The last quarter saw Ramke back on the court in defence, while heavy rain made it hard for the goalies at both ends
However, Robe made the most of it, outscoring the Saints by 10 goals to ice the game.
Best players for Robe were Gluyas and Ramke, with Kylie Heaver and Hayley Burner named best for Nangwarry.

Robe's Sarah Laurie was in good touch again in the Roosters' clash with Nangwarry on the weekend.

Murphies too strong

Glencoe 58 d Port MacDonnell 38
After a rainy day, the skies cleared for the Mid South East netball Round 9 clash between Glencoe and Port MacDonnell.
With both teams sitting on four wins and three losses, there was plenty riding on the game.
Both teams came out strong defensively, with Glencoe's Sarah Edwards intercepting the first centre pass and the Demons' Alana Winter getting hand to ball on the second.
The Murphies were able to settle quicker and adjust, with Donna Jaeschke able to find the circle with ease in her 250th game, leading the Murphies to a six-goal advantage at the first break.
The Demon's attacking line was able to link up more fluently in the second quarter but some early inaccurate shooting allowed Glencoe's Chantelle Cocks opportunity on the rebound.
Winter and Belinda O'Dine continued to work hard in the Demons' defensive circle, not giving the Glencoe goalie combination of Jenna Paproth and Malinda Markiewicz an inch.
Markiewicz, unfazed by the increased attention, netted 11 of the Murphies 14 goals for the quarter and increased their lead by four goals at half time.
Port MacDonnell came out of the main break having reshuffled their entire team in an attempt to claw back the 10-goal deficit.
Winter and youngster Lara Wilson moved into the shooting circle, pushing Brooke Williams into the centre and giving Kirby Carrison the goal keeper bib.
Glencoe jumped on the opportunity to put away the unsettled line up, with Markiewicz and Paproth now able to find the post with greater ease.
Winter did her best to swing back the momentum for her team but tight defensive pressure from Cocks and Edwards kept them to only seven goals, while Glencoe piled on 16 for the quarter.
The final term saw a much tighter contest, with play going goal-for-goal.
Jaeschke continued dominate through the middle for the Murphies and linked well with Ashlea Edwards to deliver easy ball into the Glencoe goalies.
Winter continued to fight hard for the Demons, receiving plenty of ball in their attacking third but the defensive pressure continued to come from the Murphies.
The Demons put out a strong performance and only went down by one goal in the final quarter but it was too little, too late as Glencoe ran out 20-goal winners on their home court.
Best players for the victors were Jaeschke and Cocks while Narelle Lewis and Jess Trench were best for Port MacDonnell.

Glencoe's Malinda Markiewicz helped the Murphies to a good win over Port MacDonnell on Saturday.

Magpies raise intensity

Kalangadoo 51 d Hatherleigh 41

Kalangadoo claimed the points over Hatherleigh in a tough Mid South East netball Round 9 clash on Saturday.

The game started off strong, with both sides scoring off their first centre pass and going goal-for-goal for the first term.

Wet and windy conditions saw many errors which both sides were able to take advantage of and convert.

Tight match-ups all over the court set the scene for a high-intensity game, with scores tied up at 12-all at the first break.

Both sides remained unchanged heading into the second quarter and Kalangadoo upped the defensive pressure all over the court.

Hatherleigh responded with patience and was able to work the ball down and convert.

The mid-court match-up between Jayde Peacock and Tegan Telfer started to ramp up, while Hatherleigh's Abby Wight and Maddie Pulmer combined well and were able to find good space and convert easily.

Kalangadoo's Abbey Duncan was a focal point for the Magpies, using her speed and accuracy, well well supported by Kristy Egan and Peacock around the circle edge.

There were tight tussles on the wings, between Georgia Hunter and Sophie Wrightson, as well as Egan and Lara MacGregor.

Hatherleigh seemed to be in control and took a one-goal lead to the main break.

Both sides remained unchanged again going into the third term, with both desperate to break away. Every ball was so tightly contested, a heavy fall to Telfer mid-way during the third term saw a short break.

The intensity then lifted but a rolled ankle to Wrightson saw her leave the court.

Kalangadoo's Jayde Peacock and Hatherleigh's Maddie Redman contest a ball during an intense Mid South East netball clash on Saturday.

Kalangadoo's Kori Collins takes front position to claim possession during Saturday's round of Mid South East netball.

Reanna Wetherall took the wing defence position and Shanen Pulkkinen switched into circle defence with Lauren Kain.

It was another even quarter, with both sides scoring nine goals each and Hatherleigh leading 34-33 at the final break.

From there the momentum swing and Ka-langadoo took control.

Wrightson re-entered the game and combined well with Jayde Peacock to apply plenty of pressure to the home side.

Errors started to creep into the Eagles' last quarter which saw Kalangadoo jump and convert fast. Hatherleigh worked tirelessly to peg back the score line, but it was too late.

After being in control and leading for three quarters, the home side could not hang on and Kalangadoo ran away with a 10-goal victory.

Best players for Kalangadoo were Duncan and Egan, while Telfer and Wight were best for Hatherleigh.

Mozzies under pressure

By Trevor Jackson

Mount Burr 6.9 (45) d Tantanoola 5.10 (40)
An even contest at Tantanoola was decided by less than a straight kick in Round 9 of Mid South East football on Saturday.

Mount Burr travelled to take on the Tigers and returned victorious, but only just.

Apart from the first quarter, the Mozzies had their noses in front at every break, with little in the contest all day.

Tantanoola held the advantage after the opening term, with an eight-point lead heading to the second quarter.

Mount Burr then turned the game around on the back of a stern talk from coach Reece Duncan.

“The wind was a bit of a factor but we were pretty flat the first quarter,” he said.

“I gave the boys a couple of colourful words at quarter time and it worked because the boys came out in the second quarter and pulled their fingers out a bit.”

The Mozzies claimed the lead off the back of three major scores, while holding the home side goal-less for the second quarter.

But far from being comfortable with the nine-point lead, Mount Burr was forced to play a tough defensive game, as the home side hit back and trailed by just two points at the final break.

Both sides could only kick one major score each in the final stanza, with the pressure building on the visitors as the home side continually pushed forward.

“In the last quarter it was pleasing our

Tyler Stanley was instrumental in Mount Burr’s victory on the weekend, as he helped repel many inside 50 attacks from Tantanoola late in the game.

backline held up and repelled a lot,” Duncan said.

“There would have been 15 forward entries in the last five minutes for Tant and we were able to withstand them and came away with the win.”

The five-point victory was well-deserved after withstanding such a late barrage and

Duncan noted a couple of names who stood tall.

“Consistent as ever, Sam and Josh Wallis were both instrumental,” he said.

“But in the last quarter Tyler Stanley did a lot.

“He took repetitive marks and got it out of the backline again and again.

“He snuck into the best players from what he did in that last quarter.”

Goals were certainly hard to come by and only Jack Gregory could kick more than one for the victors, with three to his name.

“It was a terrible day for goals,” Duncan said.

“We did miss a couple we should have slot- ted, which would have given us a bit more breathing room but we weren’t able to convert which was frustrating.”

It was a similar scenario for the Tigers, with Jack Dawe finding the going tough but he man- aged two majors to help keep his side in touch.

At the half-way mark of the season the Mozzies sit down in fifth spot on the ladder, just four points behind Robe.

For Duncan, there is no need to worry but a more consistent second half of the season is required.

“We are a game below Robe so we have to make that up somewhere and jump over them,” he said.

“We still have a way to go, so we just have to keep grinding it out.

“In the second half of the year we need need to win those games we lost during the first half and win a few more.”

Demons build intensity as game closes

By Trevor Jackson

Port MacDonnell 16.12 (108) d Glencoe 7.6 (48)

Port MacDonnell kept its winning form run- ning when they comfortably accounted for Glencoe in Round 9 of Mid South East foot- ball on Saturday.

The Demons had taken care of business last round against a tough Hatherleigh out- fit and despite a shaky start on Saturday, ran out emphatic victors over the Murphies.

Glencoe had the majority of possession inside 50 in the opening term and turned that into a four-point advantage at the first break.

Four behinds hurt the Murphies on the scoreboard but any lead in such conditions would have been welcomed.

However, the Demons soon found their range and began to pepper the goals, with five majors and four minors scores in the second term to claim the lead by a handy 22 points.

That run continued in the third term but the Murphies also found something extra, as both sides added five majors to the score sheets.

With Glencoe trailing by 24 points at the final break, the game was certainly not de- cided but the Demons put an end to it in the final stanza.

Port MacDonnell banged on another six major scores, while holding Glencoe to just one and ran out comfortable victors. Jake Turner was impressive up forward with six majors, while Ned Wilke (3), Tim Sullivan (2) and Alex Ridding (2) all kicking multiple goals.

For the Murphies it was coach Thomas Edwards and Henry Smith who kept the hopes alive with two majors each.

Saints fall short

By Trevor Jackson

Robe 17.10 (112) d Nangwarry 12.6 (78)

Robe was forced to fight hard to hold off a determined Nangwarry in Round 9 of Mid South East football on Saturday.

The weather was as expected at the sea-side venue but the home side was out of the blocks fast, with a handy 26-point lead at the first break. It appeared a big score was on the cards, as Robe banged on a further six majors in the second quarter to create a handy 58-point lead which would be hard to chase down in such adverse conditions.

However, the Saints were not done and began to find some run in the third term, with eight majors to close the margin to just 20 points. Andrew Hyland was in good form, with the Saints finding the spearhead forward, who finished off will style. That put the Roosters on notice and they could not relax.

Despite a handy lead in the adverse conditions, Robe needed to dig something out to put the game to bed and that came in the final stanza as the Roosters began to again build their advantage, with four majors to ice the game, while holding the Saints to just two.

Up forward it was all about Lachlan Hentschke, as he increased his tally as the game unfolded, finishing with nine goals, an impressive effort considering the conditions.

Jack Kelly (3) and Thomas Miller (2) also kicked multiple goals for the victors.

For the Saints it was again Hyland who stood tall, with seven majors to his name.

Bowlers defy chilly conditions

The cold snap did not deter 32 Millicent bowlers from participating in a 2-4-2 competition last week, with some impressive scores recorded.

In first place with a good score of 34+34 shots up was the team of Eddie Hann and Terry Barnes.

A close second, winning 14 of the 20 ends, with a score of 34+27 shots up was the team of Robert Radley and Derk Pietersma.

Other winning teams for the day: Peter Dunnicliff/Mary Clifford, also winning 14 and 16 shots up; Arthur O'Connell/Iain Campbell 33+8; Robert Chambers/Jim Campbell 32+7; David Nuske/Carl Schapel 32+1; David Botting/Rod Gibbs 29+4; a draw between Ian Ross/Derrick Lindh 20+0 playing Merle Stevens/Malcolm Wright 20+0.

Dour forecast deters SE Veteran golfers

The forecast for drastic wintry weather at Kingston deterred a lot of SE Veterans golfers but 35 hardy individuals greeted the starter and only endured one short squall.

Local player Lyndon Cox won first division with a credible 35 points, from Scott Gluyas and Barry Brook with 34 each.

Brook came off an impressive round on the Saturday at Attamurra and won the count-back.

Second division went to Pat Ryan on his home track with a solid 37 points, from Blue Lake's Russ Lingham on 31 and Attamurra's Max Clifford on 29.

Lingham also claimed an impressive eagle on the 13th hole.

The Ross Orchard trophy went to Kym Sandford and Chris Carr.

Carr is getting some tuition from Beachport's John Howe but it does not always work.

However, Howe had a good day as he claimed the Scotch.

The nearest to pins were won by Terry Chant, Barry Brook and Peter Vile.

The next meeting is at Lucindale on June 20, a two part event, with the second part on July 4.

Eagles make a statement

By Trevor Jackson

Hatherleigh 15.5 (95) d Kalangadoo 7.10 (52)
Last weekend's wet conditions provided some interesting Mid South East football results.

None moreso than Hatherleigh's win over Kalangadoo at the home of the Eagles.

The anticipated Round 9 clash was certainly one many had waited to see and the Eagles were up to the challenge from the opening bounce.

In 2022 Hatherleigh has shown a tendency to give other teams a head start and play catch-up football but that was not the case on Saturday.

The Eagles hit the ground running and began their assault early, with eight straight goals to just one Kalangadoo behind in the first term in relatively good conditions.

The ground was wet but the rain held off for the opening stanza and the Eagles took full advantage of the wind.

"I was really rapt with the opening quarter," Eagles coach Jake Dowdy said.

"After the week before when we got done, we had a bit to prove and the boys came out firing from the start.

"To be honest, it was probably one of the best quarters of football I have been involved in.

"Everyone was switched on and to kick eight goals straight without any points, considering we have been kicking pretty bad all year, was just unbelievable.

"I can't really describe it ... it was one of those quarters where everything went right."

The second term saw scores dry up somewhat, with the Magpies unable to replicate the Eagles' opening-term barrage.

At the long break the margin was 39 points and the home side looked in the box seat to claim the win.

However, Dowdy said it was no time to relax against such a formidable opponent.

"I was happy with the the way the boys came out in the second quarter," he said.

"I said at quarter time Kalangadoo is a class outfit and will come out firing.

"We had to make sure we didn't get flustered if they came out hard and got a couple of quick ones.

"Good sides are always going to get a bit of momentum, so you just have to weather it and get that momentum back."

From there Hatherleigh banged on another four majors in the third term, while the Magpies added two and that created a winning margin the visitors could not overcome.

Again Dowdy said there was no time to relax, with Kalangadoo's recent effort against Robe still fresh in his memory.

"You just have to look what they did against Robe a couple of weeks ago," he said.

"They kicked something ridiculous like 14 goals in the last quarter so you know they can score pretty heavily."

Kalangadoo did win the final term but it was too little, too late and the Eagles celebrated.

However, the early part of the final stanza did throw up some concerns for Dowdy.

"I was actually more impressed with our last quarter than out first," he said.

"They kicked the first three goals in the last quarter and were up and about.

"You can't hold a team like that down for the whole game ... at some stage they will get some momentum.

"We weathered that storm and went on and kicked the next couple."

Brad Mitchell was a solid focus up forward, with five goals to his name, while Darcy Bateman (3), Dowdy (2), Jordan Galpin (2) and James Telford (2) all adding multiple majors.

Dowdy said Mitchell again received silver service from his teammates, who delivered the ball accurately.

Bateman has been quiet around goals all season but was also impressive.

That also came from necessity, with usual full forward Jack Skeer out on the wing, before leaving the contest after a head clash late in the second term.

With seven first-pick players out of the lineup, Dowdy said it was an impressive overall performance which provided a great psychological boost to his side.

"Kalangadoo has been the team that has looked really good - they have been belting sides," he said.

"It is good for us to have that mental edge now, it instils a bit of belief we can actually do it.

"The belief inside the group after a game like that is massive, especially after the week before.

"But we have to be careful not to get carried away.

"Kalangadoo will be a lot better when we play them next time."

The pointy end of the ladder remains unchanged, with the top-placed Magpies enjoying a huge percentage margin over the second-placed Eagles.

However, the weekend's result, along with the Round 8 defeat of Hatherleigh at the hands of Port MacDonnell, suggests the season is alive and well, with no team able to relax on any given week.

Young stars to impress in regional football carnival

By Trevor Jackson

The Mid South East Under 15 football representative side is in good hands, with Chris Mules at the helm and Interleague day fast approaching.

The rising stars will face the Western Border and Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara leagues on Saturday at Kongorong oval, in what will be showcase of young talent throughout the day.

Mules is hopeful of a good showing from the side after four training sessions at Hatherleigh, Glencoe and Kongorong.

He said a good number showed up for the sessions, with plenty of talent on display.

"Our team is looking alright," he said.

"We should be quick enough, we have some good talent there and some good top age players.

"I think we should be competitive and around the mark."

On-field the side will be led by Mount Burr's Charlie

Bevan as captain, with Kongorong's Tyler Richardson vice captain.

Mules said those two boys were ideal for the job with their own skill sets, while all clubs are represented in the final squad.

"Charlie Bevan is a skilful running midfielder and Tyler Richardson a strong mid-forward," he said.

"All the clubs are represented because I wanted to have each club represented to make it a true showing from the Mid South East."

Mules said one of the biggest hurdles leading up to game day was bringing the boys together on the ground in a short period of time.

"With 13, 14 and 15 year olds, it is a hard group to gel with only a few training sessions," he said.

"I think the boys have been getting better each training so hopefully we can sneak a win."

Another focus has been building confidence, learning names and preparing to hit the ground running on Saturday.

"It is all about getting their confidence up early so they do feel a part of it, to break the shackles of being nervous and quiet," Mules said.

"We worked on that early to get the talk up amongst the group and learn each others names so when we get to Saturday they are comfortable within the team.

"That has been one of the main things we worked on early, then trying to work on a game plan with four sessions and a lot of kids is also a challenge."

Mules said so far the training sessions had gone well, with around 35 boys all keen to claim a guernsey.

He said he tried to give as many top-age boys as possible a game in their last season in that age group.

"A lot of the kids I did cut still have one and mostly two years to go," Mules said.

"Things are looking good for the year after.

"Hopefully those boys who were cut are not too disheartened and it puts a bit of fire in their bellies for next year."

The Interleague concept is about showcasing the young talent, with the chance for them to be noticed.

Mules is hopeful this year the SANFL will be in attendance as the young stars ply their trade on Saturday.

"I hope there is a showing from the SANFL to have a look at some of these kids," he said.

"Sometimes we feel we are forgotten down this way.

"This is a good showcase for these boys to play in a good side against some of their peers, show off some of their talent and hopefully get some recognition for it.

"I hope it is a platform for them to be seen and their names are jotted down in a black book somewhere."

Mules has been well supported by Steven McCann at training and as a selector in the absence of his assistant coach.

Skills to be put on show

By James Murphy

There will be no shortage of talent on display when the Western Border Football League's Under 17.5 interleague side contests the Limestone Coast Regional Carnival this weekend.

Played annually between the Western Border, Mid South Eastern and Kowree Naracorte Football Leagues, the eighth edition of the competition will be hosted at Kongorong on Saturday.

North Gambier A Grade coach Ben Hardy has been tasked with coaching the representative side and will be assisted by Kevin Bryant.

One of the challenges faced has been narrowing down the squad from a deep pool of talent.

A glimpse at this year's A Grade competition shows the wealth of junior talent in the Western Border Football League and cutting down the 50-strong training squad to a final 23 was no small task.

"When you have 50 quality players in there it is tough, but it is a good thing for the league that there are so many talented kids playing," Hardy said.

In the end Hardy said it was not only talent which earned selections but the understanding of what it means to represent your league.

"All of them know how to play footy, so at the end of the day we just have to try and make the best selections which will give us the best representation of Western Border," he said.

"There have been some tough calls and probably some quality players miss out but that is the way it is."

There is no shortage of A Grade experience in the list, including the likes of Millicent regulars Eli Redman, Ty Lang and Kalen Shanks.

North Gambier is well represented as well, with Brodie Allen, Tyler Harris and Deacon Ilsley frequenting the Senior stage, while the likes of West Gambier's Mitchell Cornolo and South Gambier's Nelson Forbes and Mitchell Harrold can be expected to impress as well.

With plenty of other talented names on the list, Hardy is pleased with team and is confident heading into the carnival.

"I think we have a really good team," Hardy said.

"The kids are really excited at the moment and training the house down.

"I think we will put on a really good show." The final list of 22 will be selected tonight and will have four emergencies if required.

The first game will be played against MSE-FL at 9.50am, with the second against KNTFL the last junior game of the day at 1.50pm.

Junior talent competes for Interleague bragging rights

By James Murphy

Junior talent will be showcased over a full-day of representative football this Saturday, as Kongorong hosts the 2022 Limestone Coast Regional Carnival.

The Western Border Under 15 team will compete against rival Mid South Eastern and Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara leagues in a fight for the annual bragging rights.

Millicent's Andrew Nitschke is coaching the side, with Jonathon Lillecrapp assisting.

The squad has a strong representation from all six clubs and Nitschke looks forward to seeing how the team performs against some tough opposition at Interleague level.

"There is definitely a lot of talent out there," he said.

"It is going to be a really good showpiece for people who want to watch some good kids coming through.

"I am just hoping for the boys' sake they play well.

"They have trained well, so hopefully they play well on the day."

Nitschke is no stranger to coaching junior representative football and has done so in both the Western Border and Mid South Eastern leagues.

He said it was not an easy task cutting down the numbers.

"We started with 50-odd kids and have gradually cut back to our final 22 and some emergencies," he said.

"There are a lot of good kids."

Surprisingly, among the current squad is a player who has had Senior football experience, as Millicent's Kobe Gibson has made the list.

He has played three A Grade games for the Saints in between Glenelg duties and will be one to watch throughout the carnival.

With Glenelg scouts present on Saturday, Nitschke said there will be places up for grabs for a playing squad which will compete in the Under 15 Championships in October.

Nitschke is coach of the Under 15 Academy side and said a squad of around 30 players will be chosen from the carnival to train for the team.

That gives the youngsters extra incentive to perform in what should be a high-quality display of the Limestone Coast's football talent.

The team has its final training run at East Gambier tonight where the team will be finalised ready for Saturday's carnival.

Young Mid South East footballers ready for kick off

By Trevor Jackson

Junior footballers will be in focus this weekend as the Western Border, Mid South East and Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara leagues go head-to-head in the Limestone Coast Regional Carnival.

The Mid South East Under 17.5 side will be coached by current Mount Burr senior coach Reece Duncan and appears to be on track.

The side had its final training mid-week at Kongorong oval, where the carnival will be played.

In his second year in the job, Duncan said he pleased to again take on the role.

"I had a great time last year so I was more than happy to do it this year," he said.

"Tim Little is my assistant coach at Mount Burr and assistant coach for this, so it works well between us."

In the past Duncan said there was not as much hype around the Interleague concept.

He said that has changed over the years, with more focus on the young stars through the Glenelg Football Club connection.

"I remember playing when I was younger," he said.

"Your parents would rock up and watch and that was about it.

"Now there are the Glenelg representatives come down and make sure they get around the kids, which is great for the kids to get that exposure."

Duncan said there had been a fair amount of interest from the young players, with a strong squad to choose from.

"We have a few bottom age kids and some top age from last year, so it is good to see the familiar faces and some new ones," he said.

"We have some very skilled kids which is good for the future of football in the region.

"The kids who have come out have shown plenty of talent, so it all looks good."

Talent is just one part of the equation, with the players required to work together with others the oppose during the usual season.

Duncan said that has not been a problem, with the young players keen to show their ability and team work to ensure an Interleague guernsey.

"The best thing about Interleague is there is talent everywhere when you get the best of the best," he said.

"I tell the kids they are the best of the best, to act like it, play like it and train like it.

"They all show plenty of respect but the best thing is how quickly all the boys gel and get together."

The one thing about Interleague is the opposition is somewhat unknown.

That makes it tough for a coach to plan for a game.

However, Duncan said there was a simple solution to that.

"Last year I gave the boys my take on what Interleague has looked like for the last 10 or more years," he said.

"I tell the boys what they should expect, what we expect from them and just go in and have a crack.

"I told them Mid SE football is hard and fair and that is the way we will go in."

Saints dominated team

By James Murphy

The Western Border Junior Netball Association will be out in full force at the Netball SA Country Championships this weekend.

With no senior side represented for the Association this year, it will be the five juniors teams which will vie for the honours across three grades.

They will compete over three days against rival teams from across country South Australia, including the Mid South East and Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara Netball Association.

It is no surprise to see Millicent strongly represented across all grades.

The 17 and Under team is dominated by Saints, with six of the 10 players from Millicent, as well as coaches Donna Denton and Michelle Skeer.

Abby Denton, Ella Easterby, Portia McRae, Lillie Paul, Daisy Tunkin and Lauren Van Eeden are all talented netballers and there is plenty of A Grade experience between them.

Paul and McRae have been regular starters for the Saints' A Grade, while the others have had their opportunities throughout the season so far.

Millicent's Lillie Paul has been a regular starter for the Saints' A Grade side and will test her skills in the 17 and Under Netball SA Country Championships this weekend.

With an abundance of junior talent, Western Border will have two 15 and Under and 13 and Under sides.

In the 15 and Under Navy Blue team Mackinlee Alcock, Piper Paul and Poppy Venn will aim to impress for Millicent, while Matti Fauchelle, Mia Gysbers and Mylee Lynch will compete in the Sky Blue squad.

The 13 and Under Navy Blue team is also full of Saints, again with six of the 10 places filled by the club.

Millicent's Hayley Dunn will coach that team, while Lucy Crowe is the only Saint in the 13 and Under Sky Blue side.

Win in muddy conditions

By James Murphy

Millicent 9.16 (70) d North Gambier 5.7 (37)

In another wet and wild day for sport, Millicent claimed a 33-point win over North Gambier at Vansittart Park.

The Round 9 clash was expected to be the closest fixture and scores remained tight in the first half.

North led at the first change before the Saints pushed out to a seven-point lead at half time.

Despite some inaccuracies in the second term - which resulted in eight behinds and just one major for the term - Millicent coach Clint Gallio was pleased with the opportunities being created.

"We were really happy with the options we were taking," he said.

"We were having some good shots, but just couldn't quite convert them.

"We had plenty of the footy which was nice too - we really could have put the game away."

Millicent regrouped at the long break and thanks to a raise in pressure posted a four-goal third quarter to push out to a 24-point advantage at the final change.

The Saints finished up with three goals in the fourth to North's two, wrapping up a strong four quarters from the reigning premiers.

Gallio was pleased with the game and the intensity shown from his team throughout.

The Bradley brothers were both in fine form on the day with Frazer earning the best-on-ground honours for his efforts down the wing.

Kade Bradley was also impressive at the defensive end and was named second best for the side.

"They have matured a lot as people and with their footy," Gallio said.

"They have been putting the effort in on the track and they are getting the rewards for it."

The consistency continued for Kade Varcoe and he returned to the best players this week, performing well in a shut-down role on North midfielder star Nick McNerney.

At the scoring end Dylan Bromley was prominent in front of goals again with three majors and a mention in the best.

Youngster Kobe Gibson also found opportunities inside 50 and bagged two goals, as did Hamish Nitschke in a solid second game back from ACL recovery.

Sam Waring and Thomas Renzi rounded out the best players but Gallio said there could easily have been 10-12 mentioned on the day in a strong team performance.

For the home team it was Brett Shepherdson who stood out, with his efforts off half back earning him the best-on-ground mantle.

Nick McNerney put in the hard yards through the middle against the resistance of Varcoe, while Jordan Hollitt and Jake Schutz were recognised again for their work down back.

Justin McConnell had the best return for the day with a pair of goals, while Stafford, Dale Bachman and youngster Brodie Allen all found the middle of the posts once each.

The result had no effect on ladder positions but has widened the gap between the two sides.

The Saint now sit four wins clear of the third-placed Tigers with only percentage separating them from ladder leader South Gambier.

"It is a close comp, but it is nice to have that barrier between second and third ladder wise," Gallio said.

The league now enters a bye for the June long weekend, with the Limestone Coast Regional Carnival set down for this Saturday.

Strong win for Saints over Tigers

Millicent 74 d North Gambier 40

A settled Millicent roster was too much for an understaffed North Gambier on Saturday as the Saints claimed a 34-goal win in Round 9 of Western Border netball.

The Tigers were without the experience of star shooter Caroline and Mel Renko, while creative mid-courter Ash Kalantarian was sidelined for the match.

It gave Cara Nulty and Elyse Willoughby another opportunity in the top grade, while Luran Norman added to her A Grade resume.

While they did their best, Millicent played a methodical four quarters and its clinical ball movement and accurate finishing proved too much.

Tabatha Sanderson and Demi Verbena were unstoppable in goals, netting 74 from 82, while at the other end Hannah Nitschke dominated defence with good support from Portia McRae and Georgia Clarke.

The Saints' mid-court of Paige Nitschke and Lisa Duldig moved the ball with impressive speed and with Verbena either finding Sanderson in space or finishing herself, Millicent powered to a 34-goal victory.

Brianna Walters showed great composure and leadership in centre for North as she looked to control the match for her young team mates, while Willoughby was tenacious and hard working against a barrage of possession.

However, it was not enough to deny the Saints the win.

This week the Western Border netball competition has a bye for the June Long Weekend, with Millicent's next appearance to be at home against reigning premier East Gambier.

Representative rivalries

By James Murphy

Some of the region's best football talent will be on show when the eighth Limestone Coast Regional Carnival is held at Kongorong this Saturday.

The annual competition pits the Western Border, Mid South Eastern and Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara Football Leagues against each other.

This year the Senior format remains the same as the 2021 carnival, where a single full-length game will be played between teams from two of the three leagues.

This year's contest will have MSEFL and KNTFL go head-to-head, with Western Border rotated out this time around.

Junior talent will also be in high supply, with all three leagues contesting the Under 17.5 and Under 15 competitions.

South East Regional Director Scott Duncan expects to see a quality display of football across the carnival.

That includes the feature Senior game which will conclude the day following the junior fixtures.

"With the KNTFL not playing last year, they are keen for Interleague footy this year," Duncan said.

"I expect it to be a close encounter and a high standard game once again."

He said the Kongorong Football Club is well prepared for the event and should attract a healthy crowd.

"They have been aware for a while that they are the hosts, so they have been working behind the scenes to get things up and going," Duncan said.

Each team competing in the carnival will have a playing squad of 23 players, with all 23 eligible to compete in all scheduled matches.

The Senior game is set down for final time slot of the day and will be played in four quarters of 20 minutes, plus time on.

Between quarters there will be five-minute intervals, with a 20-minute break for half time.

The Under 15 and Under 17.5 games will be played in 22-minute halves with no time on and a five-minute interval at half time.

As usual Senior players will be out to impress as the competition provides an opportunity to be selected for the South East Zone team training squad, which will compete in the South Australian Country Championships in July.

Players from the Western Border league

Mount Burr's Sam Wallis will be in action for the Mid South Eastern League's side on Saturday.

are also eligible and will be selected based on their performances at club level.

"We will still pick from the three leagues," Duncan said.

"It just means the selectors need to work that little bit harder to view the Western Border this year, but we have that covered."

There will also be some added incentive for junior players to perform, with Glenelg scouts present on the day.

The first game will kick off at 8.50am, with a total of seven matches across the day, concluding with the Senior clash at 2.50pm.

SCHEDULE

Game 1: 8.50am, MSEFL U15 v WBFL U15 (Finish time 9.40am); Game 2: 9.50am, MSEFL U17.5 v WBFL U17.5 (Finish time 10.40am); Game 3: 10.50am, MSEFL U15 v KNTFL U15 (Finish time 11.40pm); Game 4: 11.50am, MSEFL U17.5 v KNTFL U17.5 (Finish time 12.40pm); Game 5: 12.50pm, WBFL U15 v KNTFL U15 (Finish time 1.40pm); Game 6: 1.50pm, WBFL U17.5 v KNTFL U17.5 (Finish time 2.40pm); Game 7: 2.50pm, MSEFL Seniors v KNTFL Seniors (Finish time 5.05pm).

Mid South East to fly the flag at Country Champs

The Mid South Eastern Netball Association will represent the Limestone Coast over the weekend in the Netball SA Country Championships at the Netball SA Stadium in Adelaide.

The MSENА will send a full complement of teams from Seniors, 17 and Under, 15 and Under and 13 and Under.

Teams across the league have been well represented in the final squads, with the seniors looking strong.

Robe's Kim Ross takes on the coaching duties, ably assisted by Hatherleigh's Sara Gray.

The side has plenty of shooting capability, with the likes of Emma Gould and Madi Haggett sure to line up in the circle.

Gould has proven to be a strong shooter to defend, with her height and accuracy tough to beat.

Through the centre Annie Hunter and Laura Schultz are a formidable pair to choose from, while defensively the likes of Dami Vanderhorst and Ellen Ramke provide a solid starting point.

Add to the list Halle and Demi Carter and the list is certainly strong.

With no Western Border senior side attending, all hopes will lie with the MSENА squad, with the hopes of a solid showing in the annual tournament.

Home-ground advantage

By James Murphy

The Mid South Eastern Football League will have the home-ground advantage at the 2022 Limestone Coast Regional Carnival this Saturday.

Played at Kongorong, the MSEFL Senior Interleague team will match up against the Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara Football League in a battle for representative bragging rights.

The carnival will take the same format as the 2021 event, where two of the region's three leagues face off in a single full-length game.

Last year MSEFL clashed with Western Border and suffered a defeat and will now be eager to bounce back against the KNTFL.

Ben McGregor is back at the helm as coach of the side and will be assisted by Hatherleigh's Jase Faulkner.

McGregor described his team as young but experienced. "I don't think we have anyone over 29 in the squad," he said.

"We have a lot of guys in that 22-26 age bracket who have probably played anywhere between two and five years of Interleague footy.

"It is a really good age group to have."

At this stage all nine MSEFL clubs are represented in the side and there is no shortage of talent.

Ladder leaders Kalangadoo and Hatherleigh feature well, with the Magpies represented in all areas of the ground.

Mitchell Lowe will line up off half-back, while Sam and Tye McManus join Andrew Stone and Ben Gregory in a Magpie dominated midfield.

Lachy Jones squares up off half-forward, while for Hatherleigh Jack Skeer will be one to watch from the same position.

Robe coach Thomas Wachtel will take on the ruck, with the likes of Mount Burr's Sam and Josh Willis - among many others - can always be counted on to perform.

Davis looks forward to the chance to test his team against the KNTFL.

"It is a really good opportunity for us up against KNT, being probably the strongest league down this way," he said.

"To come up against them on our home deck is a real test for us but it is an excellent opportunity."

The home-ground advantage could help MSEFL to victory, with nobody from the KNTFL team having played at Kongorong before.

However, McGregor expects a strong competition from their Interleague rival.

"They generally are a fairly big and hard-running side," he said.

"We just have to work with what we have and try to work to our strengths.

"We are looking forward to it."

The team will be finalised tonight at a selection dinner, where the final 23-strong side will be chosen.
