Dry times ahead

By Aidan Curtis

The Millicent Swimming Lake looks likely to remain closed for the upcoming summer as Wattle Range Council seeks to start much-needed upgrades.

During Tuesday night's council meeting, elected members voted in favour of opening up the reconstruction of the swimming lake's surface to tender.

It was discovered earlier this year that the lake had been using excessive water and it was discovered that much of the lake floor had been compromised.

Much of the lake pipe work and associated equipment is outdated and in unknown condition unknown, and there up to fourteen other visible defects across the lake floor that are likely to be contributing to the leaks, which are "significant" and require immediate attention.

There are also some operational issues that require attention before the floor treatment is addressed.

Livestock funded

Cattle and sheep farmers will be celebrating the news that South Australia's livestock industry is set to benefit from an injection of up to $6.2 million of industry funds to support the sector.

The funds collected into the Sheep Industry and Cattle Industry Funds during the 2022-23 financial year will go towards 29 projects recommended by the Livestock SA Sheep and Cattle Industry Fund Boards to help maintain market access, support animal health, disease surveillance and traceability, predator control and more, while dedicated Sheep Industry Funds will continue to support the maintenance and rebuild of the Dog Fence.

Some of the 2023-24 projects to be funded include:

- The continuation of the Footrot Management Program delivered by Biosecurity SA to reduce the animal welfare issues and economic impact of footrot in South Australian sheep.
- Ongoing Sheep Lice Compliance Program aimed at minimising the impact on the industry by providing education, advice, inspection services and compliance action.
- National Livestock Identification System (NLIS) Compliance Programs for both sheep and cattle to support industry monitoring and enforcing compliance with identification and traceability standards for the purpose of disease control, food safety and market access.

The Sheep Industry Fund and Cattle Industry Fund are established under the Primary Industry Funding Schemes Act 1998 and provide a way for South Australia's primary industry sectors to raise funds so they can favourably position themselves in the national and international marketplace.

Minister for Primary Industries and Regional Development Clare Scriven said the funds were raised by industry for industry and are particularly aimed at supporting animal health management and biosecurity, key focuses for the livestock sector.

"Our sheep, wool, cattle and dairy industries are important parts of the state's economy jointly generating $3.7 billion in revenue in 2021-2022 and supporting up to 29,000 jobs," she said.

"The funding for these programs helps make our livestock industries more sustainable and profitable into the future while also benefiting producers in their day-to-day activities.

"The programs are also designed to assist in maintaining access to existing markets, securing new ones and supporting sustainable and efficient production.

President of Livestock SA Joe Keynes said the projects identified for support in the current financial year again enable producers to influence the direction and development of their industry.

"A successful livestock industry relies on its people, so it is important that the sector is confident that funding raised maintains robust and relevant programs," he said.

"In addition to the animal health and biosecurity projects, there has been a significant investment in predator and pest control including $460,000 into wild dog control and $150,000 into feral deer and wild pig eradication.

"The funds are also investing in capacity building for the industry by sponsoring the annual Sheep Expo, the SA Junior Heifer Expo and bringing LambEx back to South Australia in 2024."

McBride backs medicinal cannabis call

By Charlotte Varcoe and Sophie Conlon

Member for Mackillop Nick McBride has backed a neighbouring member's call for medical cannabis to be legalised in South Australia.

Member for Mount Gambier Troy Bell presented a motion in the Lower House asking for recognition of the growing importance of medicinal cannabis and cannabidiol as an alternative treatment option for South Australians.

The motion also supported expanded research and clinical trials into the treatment of conditions including endometriosis, Alzheimer's, Parkinson's and chronic pain alongside requesting the streamlining of access to locally manufactured products for residents.

Speaking in Parliament, Mr Bell said he believed South Australian residents "deserve access to the highest quality, modern and affordable healthcare available to them".

"For a growing number of South Australians, this includes treatment with medical cannabis," Mr Bell said.

Speaking to the motion Mr McBride said many general practitioners were increasingly being asked about medicinal cannabis as a treatment option, but there were obstacles in place stopping them from prescribing it.

"I hear that the most potential for streamlining access to medicinal cannabis is in the area of palliative care," he said.

"Sadly, in many palliative care cases we often see patients bedbound and medicated at a level that leaves them in a highly sedated state.

"If medicinal cannabis were an option for GPs for palliative care patients, it is my belief it could potentially provide an elevated quality of life in their final days.

"It could be the medication that provides the important balance of adequate pain relief along with some cognitive function at the end of their life."

He said no one wanted to see patients access medicinal cannabis illegally and he would like to see it become embraced as a mainstream treatment.

"I hope that the current joint committee

Member for MacKillop Nick McBride has backed Member for Mount Gambier Troy Bell's calls to legalise medical cannabis in South Australia. Picture: SUPPLIED can provide some recommendations to navigate a pathway forward for more mainstream medicinal cannabis use," he said.

"We need to continue to take up opportunities to research and promote the use of medicinal cannabis for a range of conditions and I do hope that parliament and the state embrace medicinal cannabis or medical treatments as an alternative where modern medicines have failed."

New life for association

By Elisabeth Champion

There is a bold future ahead for the newly inducted Millicent Business and Community Association.

Headed up by chair David Smith and his co-chair Fiona Telfer, with Katherine Ross as treasurer and Selena Smith as secretary, the committee has some big plans to reinvigorate the association, while keeping up the things that work.

“What we want as a new committee is two things - The first is we want to keep a bit of a heartbeat for the organisation running,” he said.

“So what that means is to continue to provide support for things like webinars and on-line courses that business owners can complete.

“We’ll also continue with our ads on Win TV for those who are interested in accessing that to provide the TV advertisements that appear from time to time.

“We’ve just put an order for the 23/24 MBCA window stickers that can be put up by the members in their businesses.”

In an effort to rebuild the association and ensure it represents the community as best it can, the committee will also be undergoing community consultation.

Mr Smith said the committee was committed to work with businesses and organisations and would be speaking with local business owners in the coming months.

“We’re really keen to get out and face and speak to people face to face and see what their views are about where they think the association should go in the future, what things the association is doing well or could do better, and what ideas they might have about our future focus.

“At the same time, we also want to take an opportunity to speak to businesses that aren’t associated and find out why aren’t they, and what sorts of things would make them come into the association and what are their ideas for Millicent.

“At the end of that process, and the early part of next year, once we’ve had a chance to speak to people and we’ve got feedback, and we’ve had a chance to think through all of that, what we would then do is develop a way ahead and take that to the members and seek their agreement.”

They will also seek out partnerships with other organisations and stakeholders such as the Wattle Range Council and Regional Development Australia. With the busy Christmas season not far away, there are already plans in place to mark the holiday season.

Katherine Ross, Fiona Telfer, Selena Smith and David Smith have formed the new Millicent Community and Business Association executive.

“We’re also in the early stages of planning, sort of a combined Christmas focus around a Christmas window competition for businesses in town, but also looking at the option of a member’s Christmas function in mid-

December,” Mr Smith said.

“The aim there is that rather than go ahead with an awards night at this point in time, because time’s short.

“What we want to do is to get the members and anyone who is interested in joining to come together for Christmas, and just have an opportunity to interact with the new committee and continue the process of sharing ideas as to how we might move forward as an organisation.”

Association volunteers will hit the streets soon to have discussions with businesses, so keep an eye out for them.

Dry times ahead with lake likely closed for summer

The works, if they go ahead, would see the existing surface replaced with concrete, along with changes to the lake’s pipework and drainage.

Elected members discussed a number of options on how to proceed, including if it was possible to patch current leaks enough to “limp through summer”.

However, Wattle Range Council director of engineering services Peter Halton said that option was no longer viable.

Mr Halton said previous years had seen patch works done to plug the leak, but those works were only short-term options that did not often make it through the season.

“We’ve kind of got to rip the band-aid off,” Mr Halton said.

Mr Halton said council would receive regular updates on the tender process, alongside how the works would proceed.

While the elected members voted to open up the tender, there was no motion specifically stating the swimming lake would definitely be closed.

More information on what actions council will take is expected in the coming weeks.

Inspiring Miss Congeniality

By Sophie Conlon

After making it all the way to the finals, former Furner woman Lauren Walker has been named Miss Congeniality at the Miss Universe Australia 2023 competition.

When she first entered the competition Ms Walker did not set any goals for herself, but said walking away with the Miss Congeniality title “was the perfect way to end the experience”.

“Simply to be chosen to participate in the initial state round was a privilege,” she said.

“I never anticipated what the journey would amount to and I never set into it to receive any form of recognition.”

Ms Walker said she entered the competition to challenge herself and was proud to be crowned Miss Congeniality by her fellow finalists.

“Throughout the Miss Universe Australia journey, I was committed to staying true to my authentic self and fostering genuine connections with the remarkable women I had the privilege to share this experience with,” she said.

“To have these women acknowledge me as the most friendly, professional, and likable is truly humbling and I am honoured.”

Looking back on the journey the midwife and horse racing director said it had been a transformative experience.

“It has helped develop a strong sense of self, allowing me to unlock a new level of confidence and left me more self-assured and self-aware,” she said.

“It has taught me the importance of embracing my true self and celebrating the uniqueness of others.”

Now living in Nar Nar Goon, Ms Walker said participating in the Miss Universe Australia competition had been a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

“MUA has opened so many new doors for me and equipped me with the skills and confidence to continue on my own path and working towards my dream life,” she said.

Still a bit unsure of what would come next, Ms Walker said she would love to write a book or combine her love of fashion and horse racing.

“The MUA journey has reaffirmed to me the importance of stepping out of my comfort zone and taking risks to pursue my dream life,” she said.

“The possibilities are endless I am just excited for what the next chapter of my life holds post MUA.”

Ms Walker encouraged others think about entering the competition as through it she was able to meet friends she will have for life.

“My hope is little girls who have watched my journey are inspired to pursue their dreams regardless how big or small, so they too can accomplish something truly remarkable,” she said.

“Anyone who is considering entering- I thoroughly encourage you to do so, I promise it will be the best thing you ever do!”

Unusually dry spring weather ahead, says Bureau

After one of the states warmest and wettest winters the Bureau of Meteorology has now warned the South East could have an unusually dry spring.

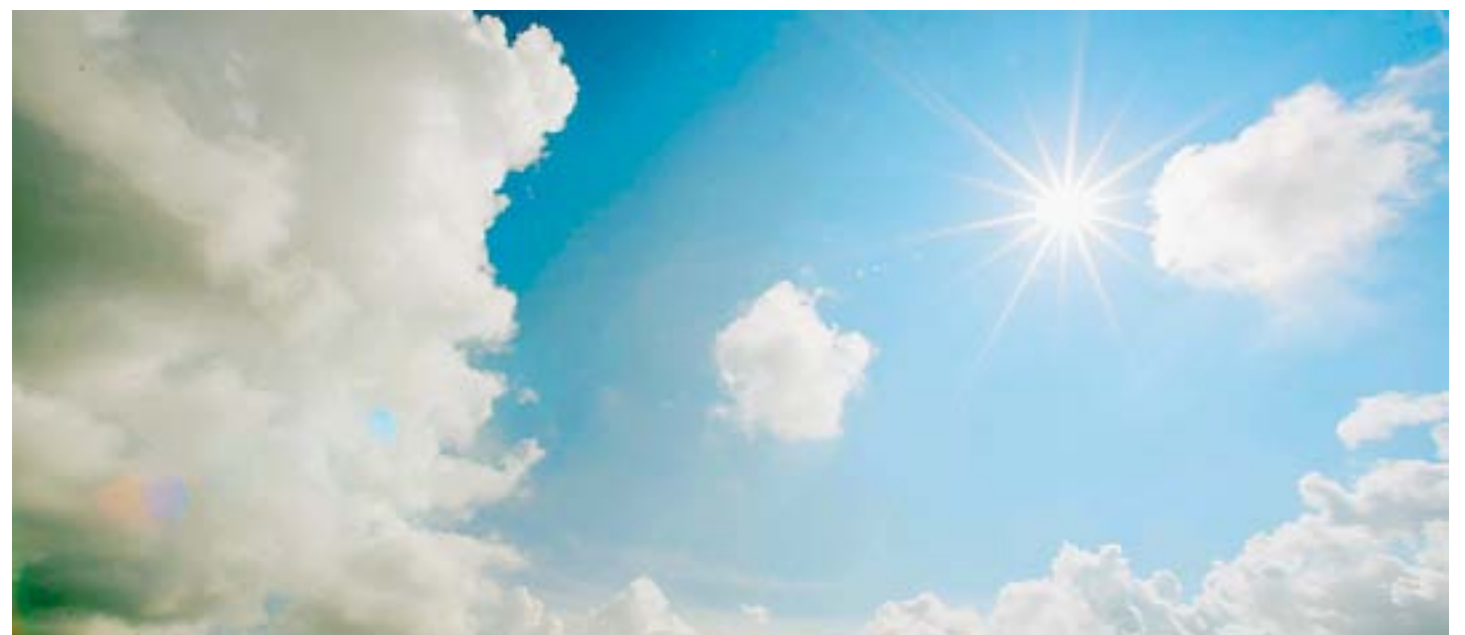

Bureau senior meteorologist Angus Hines said all of South Australia was likely to have a below average rainfall this spring.

“Most of the state has an increased chance of an unusually dry spring, with the South Eastern corner having the highest chance of an unusually dry spring,” he said.

On this, Mr Hines said the South East and Mallee were one of three areas in the state with an increased fire risk this season.

“Australia’s fire agencies have identified increased fire risk this spring for parts of the South Australia, including the the far south-west corner next to the WA border, the far north-west corner next to the WA and NT borders, and the grasslands and Mallee Heath areas in the south-east towards the Victorian border,” he said.

“Prepare and review your bushfire plan wherever you are, know your weather and know your risk.”

South East sewer wipe out

South East sewer habits are causing problems for SA Water, with “troublesome unflushables” often blocking up wastewater pipes in the region.

SA Water has lifted the lid on the South East, with recent data showing the region caused 62 blockages by trying to dispose of fats and oils in the sink, along with wet wipes and other foreign objects going down the loo. During 2022-23, Mount Gambier / Berrin was ranked second for regional centres recording the most blockages, with Naracoorte and Millicent also in the top 10. SA Water senior manager of maintenance Lisa Hannant said the Millicent wastewater treatment plant saw a very high volume of wet wipes come out in the sewerage.

“Our operators are physically removing several kilograms of wet wipes from the plant’s primary treatment tanks each week, with no let-up in sight unless people change their flushing habits,” Ms Hannant said.

“Unlike toilet paper, which breaks down in around 30 seconds, wet wipes contain multiple layers of woven fibre and are designed not to disintegrate, causing them to clump together and block the flow of sewage.

“This means if they don’t cause blockages in our network of pipes or pump stations before even arriving at our plant, there’s a risk of damaging the plant’s infrastructure and reducing its ability to operate effectively.”

Ms Hannant said Mount Gambier / Berrin and Naracoorte were just as bad, which led to a lot of clogs.

“Millicent isn’t our only hotspot in the South East, with our treatment plants serving Mount Gambier and Naracoorte also sharing a similar experience, especially across our network of pipes and pump stations in these towns – and local residents are continuing

SA Water said it pulls wet wipes out of its wastewater treatment facilities in the South East on a daily basis.

Picture: SUPPLIED

to take a gamble every time they flush wet wipes,” she said.

“If we look at regional SA’s total of 318 sewer blockages during the past 12 months, two-thirds of these occurred at a property’s connection before even reaching our pipes – let alone our treatment plants – which increases the risk of an overflow inside your home, and trust me, nobody wants to experience this.

“Luckily, the solution is ever-so simple and all you need to remember is to only flush the three Ps – toilet paper, pee and poo – and put everything else in the bin to help protect your pipes and our sewers.”

SA Water spends around $2 million a year in redirecting non-flushable materials from pipes, pump stations and wastewater treatment plants to landfill.

SA spruiks wine, taxes to poach business from Victoria

By Jacob Shteyman, AAP

Victorians are being sold the allure of a better life across the border as South Australia fires up an ad campaign aimed at poaching businesses from interstate.

SA Premier Peter Malinauskas spruiked the festival state’s more attractive corporate tax regimen and superior lifestyle, leaving his Victorian counterpart Daniel Andrews incensed.

“We know that the state’s tax regimen is extremely competitive in comparison to every other state around the country, including Victoria. We want to tell that story,” Mr Malinauskas told reporters on Thursday, September 7.

The Business is Better in SA campaign, which is already running across billboards and social media in Victoria, flaunts better tax breaks for businesses, including zero payroll tax for wages under $1.5 million.

It also claims better training, traffic, beaches and wine.

The campaign highlights that South Australians pay more than $2100 less in taxes per year compared with their Victorian counterparts, and follows the Victorian government’s imposition of an $8.6 billion levy to pay off its Covid-19 debt.

As property prices soar across the country, Mr Malinauskas was also keen to point out that land was more affordable in his state for businesses and individuals.

“(South Australia has) far less land tax, far less stamp duty, a highly competitive payroll tax regimen,” he said.

“That’s what we want the eastern states to be aware of, so when they choose to expand their businesses or establish a new one, they look to South Australia to do so.”

Mr Andrews claimed to be unfazed by the campaign, but used the opportunity to stick the boot in over what he perceives to be an unfair carve-up of GST revenue among the states.

“I’d be more worried about South Australia stealing Victoria’s GST, frankly,” he said.

“If it’s so rosy over there, if it’s such a great place, maybe they don’t need our $670 million worth of GST that we paid them.”

Mr Malinauskas brushed off Mr Andrews’ criticism and maintained the pair are on a unity ticket of clawing back their fair share of GST revenue from Western Australia.

He also said SA boasted the fastest-growing economy in the country, with Australian Bureau of Statistics figures for the June quarter showing state final demand grew by 1.3 per cent.

Victorian shadow treasurer Brad Rowswell said he didn’t blame SA for trying to lure businesses across the border, but urged them to stick fast.

“Please bear with us for the next three years, it won’t always be the Andrews Labor government that’s in charge,” he said.

The SA government intends to expand the campaign to other states after its initial $160,000 run in Victoria, which ends on September 16.

Call for action on hunting

By Sophie Conlon

Birds SA has welcomed a Victorian Parliamentary Inquiry report encouraging the state government to end the recreational hunting of native birds and is calling for similar action in South Australia.

The inquiry had eight key recommendations including ending the annual recreational native duck and quail hunting season opening on all public and private land from 2024 and retaining Traditional Owner hunting rights.

A Birds SA spokesperson said they hoped an inquiry, currently taking place in South Australia, would heed similar results.

"The SA Inquiry will hear the same or very similar evidence – there is no reason why it should not come to the same conclusion to end the hunting of native birds," the spokesperson said.

"This would then bring SA in line with the other states that have banned duck hunting decades ago."

The Victorian inquiry received mixed reviews with BirdLife Australia backing the findings and the Shooters, Fishers and Farmers Party saying the select committee had taken a "ride on the emotional bandwagon led by minority animal activists".

Despite mixed feelings across the border, Birds SA have applauded South Australian deputy premier and minister for climate, environment and water Susan Close and the Malinauskas government for instigating the South Australian inquiry, expected to be handed down in December or January 2024.

"We now urge the SA government to read the Victorian report and to use that information to accelerate this SA Inquiry," the spokesperson said.

"We also call on the Malinauskas government to declare no duck and quail hunting season for 2024 pending legislation to permanently ban this cruel, archaic activity in South Australia."

As part of the ongoing South Australian inquiry The Australia Institute found a permanent ban on native bird hunting in South Australia was supported 76 per cent of the public and would have minimal impact on the state's economy.

The Australia Institute SA director Noah Schultz-Byard said native bird hunting was deeply unpopular, benefited very few people and imposed costs on the community,

"Ending native bird hunting would have a minimal impact on the economy and would provide substantial benefits to residents and businesses near hunting areas," he said.

"Claims that hunting is economically significant rely on biased survey results and economic modelling techniques that make no consideration of environmental costs.

"It is time to do what a majority of South Australian people, and presumably birds, want and end this cruel and economically damaging practice."

South Australian deputy premier and minister for climate, environment and water Susan Close.

Students' eyes on time capsule buried for half-century

By Sophie Conlon

The Mount Burr Primary School community will take a step back in time next month when the school's 50 year old time capsule is opened.

Coinciding with the schools official opening, the time capsule was buried in October 1973 and principal Anne-Marie Fitzgerald said it would be opened on the October 21 anniversary.

She said everyone with a connection to the school, or who was curious about the contents of the capsule, would be welcome to come to the event.

Ms Fitzgerald had no idea what could be buried inside, but had a few guesses.

"I think there could be things like marbles or knuckle bones, writing of some sort, maybe some recounts," she said.

"There'd be some work samples, I think it's more that sort of thing.

"It might even be something about what they think the future is going to be... I think there could be some ideas there."

School leader Jack, year 6, said he thought stuff inside the time capsule would centre around how the school ran 50 years ago.

"I reckon there might be some pictures and maybe some canteen menus, and maybe old books and stuff that they used to use," he said.

"Maybe a memory of how life was back then," he said.

He said photos would be probably be of students or the school and its events.

Jack said in 1973 life might have been more strict and students would not have had the good quality equipment like they have now.

"Like our laptops would be better and they would have had chalk boards a while ago, but I'm not sure if that's how long ago," he said.

George, year 4, said 50 years ago school would have been very old fashioned.

"They would have had chalk boards and they might not have even had computers," he said.

He there might be old coins in the time capsule and said if they were making their own he would definitely put money in there so people in the future could see how it changes.

George was also excited to see if one of his relatives who attended the school might have put something in the time capsule.

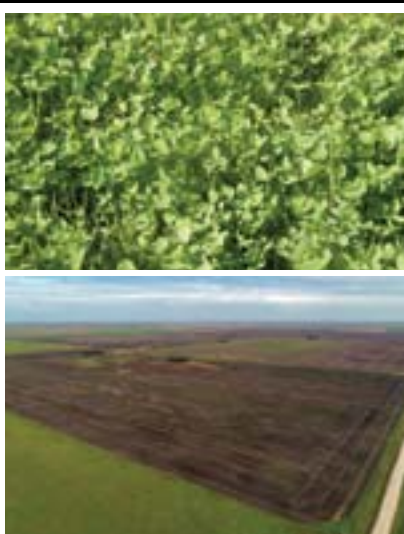

"Some people in my family went to this school... my Uncle Deano, he might have put something in there," he said.

Ms Fitzgerald said as well as opening the time capsules visitors would be able to enjoy morning tea and take a tour of the school.

Depending what is inside the time capsule Ms Fitzgerald said they would likely display the contents or return it to its original owners.

The Mount Burr Primary School will be open from 10am to 12pm on October 21, RSVPS to dl.0288.info@schools.sa.edu.au are preferred.

Church marks 150 years

By Sophie Conlon

Penola parishioners have celebrated the 150th anniversary of St Mary the Virgin Anglican Church with a special service featuring a sermon from the Archdeacon of the Diocese of the Murray.

Father Lyndon Sulzberger has been the church's chaplain for about three years and said it was an honour to be at the helm for the milestone.

"It's an honour to honour those that have gone before us, because it's nothing I've done," he said.

"It's over 150 years, there have been many priests and many people all working together and that's what it's about, working together under God to show God's love to others."

About 70 people came out for the celebration and Fr Sulzberger said it was great to see so many people.

"We had people from Beachport, Millicent, Kalangadoo and Penola and visitors that used to be here came from all around," he said.

"It was a wonderful celebration to celebrate the church being here to help people for 150 years."

During his sermon Archdeacon of the Diocese of the Murray father Neil Fernando said the celebration offered a day of rejoicing.

"As we thank God for the 150 years of witness of this house of God, we pray also that it may continue to tell the story of our salvation in Jesus Christ with the greatest eloquence to the people of our own generation," he said.

"Mary MacKillop ventured into the colonial backwater of Penola to do something about the injustices and sufferings of the people.

"We are called to rise to the occasion, to let loose the spirit, to rouse the comfortable, to radically embody the Gospel of justice, love and mercy and to declare the year of jubilee."

Fr Sulzberger said the church surviving for 150 years showed the communities commitment and dedication to God and each other.

"The great commandment is to love the Lord your God with all your heart, mind, soul and strength and to love your neighbour as yourself," he said.

"And so by us working in the community, we're loving others like we would love to be loved and we come to worship God and to pray for people because of what God has done for us in Christ Jesus."

After the service parishioners were invited to lunch and Fr Sulzberger said many memories of the churches history were shared.

Papaya Chia Treat

Prep time: 10 minutes
Plus soaking time: 30 minutes
Serves: 2 large or 4 small

Ingredients:

- 1 medium-sized Australian papaya
- 1/3 cup yoghurt of choice
- 1/2 cup Granola
- Chia pudding
- 1/2 cup white chia seeds
- 2 1/3 cups coconut milk
- 1 tsp pure vanilla extract
- 1 Tbsp lime juice
- 1 tsp lime zest
- Chocolate nice cream
- 2 frozen bananas, chopped
- 1 Tbsp cacao powder
- 2 Tbsp coconut milk

Method:

1. Make chia pudding by adding all ingredients to a bowl and whisking together. Set in the fridge for 20 minutes.
2. Cut the papaya in half, and remove the skin and seeds. Put half the papaya in a small blender and blitz until smooth, then dice the other half. Set aside.
3. In a clean blender, add the nice cream ingredients and blitz into a smooth, thick consistency (you will need to use the tamper).
4. Assemble your jars (or put everything in a bowl!) - create layers of papaya, chia pudding, granola and yoghurt, then top with nice cream and papaya chunks. Enjoy immediately.

Papaya 'Lox' Bagel

Prep time: 10 minutes
Serves: 4

Ingredients:

- 1 small Australian papaya
- 4 Bagels
- Macadamia cream cheese (see below)
- 1 Tbsp capers
- 2 sprigs fresh dill
- 1/2 red onion, thinly sliced
- 1 baby cucumber, thinly sliced
- Salt and pepper, to taste
- Macadamia cream cheese
- 1 cup raw macadamia nuts, soaked 2 hours
- 2 Tbsp coconut yoghurt
- 1 tsp lemon juice
- 2-4 Tbsp filtered water
- 1/4 tsp fine grain salt

Method:

If making the macadamia cream cheese:

1. Drain nuts, then place in a high-powered blender with remaining ingredients (starting with only 2 Tbsp water). Blitz until very smooth, adding more water if necessary. Transfer to a clean jar and set aside.

To assemble the bagels

2. Prepare papaya by cutting in half, and using a very sharp knife to remove skin and seeds. Take care to cut the papaya into even slices, about 3-4mm thick. Set aside.

3. Cut bagels in half and spread generously with cream cheese. Add 3-4 slices of papaya, then top each bagel with cucumber, onion, a 1 tsp capers, dill and salt and pepper. Press bagels in a sandwich press until lightly browned, and enjoy straight way.

Mood-Boosting Papaya and Lime Cake

Prep Time: 10 minutes
Cook Time: 1 hour
Serves: 12

Ingredients:

- 1/2 Australian papaya, sliced and 1/2 of the slices cut in half
- 1 cup coconut sugar
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 2 eggs, lightly whisked
- 1 tsp grated lime rind
- 1/3 cup lime juice
- 1 cup plain Greek yoghurt
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- 2 1/4 cups self-raising flour
- Icing sugar, for dusting

Method:

1. Pre-heat oven to 180°C.
2. Grease a 22cm springform cake tin.
3. Place coconut sugar, olive oil, eggs, lime rind, lime juice, yoghurt and vanilla extract into bowl and mix for 1 minute or until well combined.
4. Add self-raising flour and mix until lump free.
5. Pour 1/2 of the mixture into cake tin. Smooth mixture and top with halved papaya slices.
6. Pour remaining mixture into cake tin. Smooth mixture and top with remaining papaya slices.
7. Bake for 50 minutes. Cover with foil and cook for another 10 minutes, or until skewer inserted into the centre of the cake comes out clean.
8. Cool in cake tin for 10 minutes before removing. Dust with icing sugar before serving.

Eagles in with a chance

A RESERVE – NARACOORTE V PENOLA

Penola's A Reserve side came through from the Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara preliminary final to face minor premiers Naracoorte in the grand final.

■ KASEY VENABLES – A quiet yet deadly shooter who has been rock solid this season.

Venebles' timing is a pleasure to watch as she turns defenders inside out.

■ KARLY HONNER - The smiling assassin.

Honner has had a consistent year in the circle, shooting at high percentage every game.

Nothing will stand in her way on Saturday – she wants this bad.

■ SALLY SKEER – Skeer has played a big game or two in her time.

She has thrived on the attacking wing this season, using her drive and vision to advantage.

Get ready for her to have a huge influence in this game.

■ TARA MILLARD – A speedy running machine.

Millard has made centre her own this season, impacting both ends of the court with tight defence and precision feeding.

■ TESS PORTER – A annoying, dogged defender who takes her job on the wing seriously.

Her defensive pressure is second to none and often results in turnovers for her team.

Porter will give 100 percent all day.

■ HANNAH KLEMM – A relentless defender who has smashed it in A Reserve this season.

Klemm's ability to run all day and intercept at will has been a key to the side's success this season.

Made for big games.

■ SOPHIE SCHULTZ – Schultz is regarded as the spiritual leader of the side.

Picture: SUBMITTED

She can lead the team from the defensive circle or by directing play in attack.

A smart and effective feeder who will leave nothing in the tank.

■ KIM WILSON – Wilson has been rock solid in defence all season.

She has teamed well with Schultz and Klemm to create endless turnovers for the team. Her stellar season deserves the ultimate reward.

■ HEIDI BERKIN – A talented junior training partner this year.

Berkin is a versatile young gun with the ability to play all over the court. She will be ready and waiting to make an impact on court.

Tough run in preliminary final readies team for big one

C GRADE MUNDULLA V PENOLA

The C Grade sided fought out a strong preliminary final against Padthaway to advance to the big dance.

The girls finished minor premiers with a real chance of premiership glory.

■ EVA MANARANGI – An accurate goalie that is quick moving and holds strong.

Manarangi knows how to time her leads well and is able to enter the goal ring for quick feeds.

■ STELLA O'BRIEN – O'Brien is a versatile player and the junior of the team.

Her strength has shone through.

She can swing either end of the court, is a tight defender or a swift-moving goal shooter.

■ ALICE AULD Auld is an accurate and light-on-her-feet goalie with great movement in and out of the circle.

Her accuracy reduces the pressure on the defenders.

■ LUCY CATLIN – Catlin has outstanding defensive pressure and beautiful drives, enabling swift ball movement.

Her vertical leap allows her to pick off loose passes in the middle others would simply not reach.

■ ELLIE OSWALD – The silent assassin who strikes when least expected.

As a tall wing player, Oswald's strong pressure on the ball is truly remarkable.

Her patience is a driving force for the team, with a steady hand guiding her teammates through the game.

■ LEEANNE MANARANGI – Manarangi knows how to hit the circle well, providing every opportunity to feed the goalies.

She is always there for every back up option.

■ AMELIA HENRY – Henry has a towering presence on the team.

Standing tall in height, her pressure over the shot is impeccable and rebounding efforts are second to none.

■ SARAH PITT – Pitt is a star goalie, fighting for every rebound and a tall timber in defence, making it impossible for any opponent to get past easily.

■ LETICIA GOSSE - Gosse has strong body positioning which forces the opposition to work hard for their prime position.

She can outsmart her opponent and knows how to read the ball.

■ ALEX QUICK - A reliable and hardworking defender.

Quick has a great ability to block and delay her attacker, while gaining many tips and intercepts. A passionate coach with great admiration for her team.

Looking to ice season

B GRADE – PENOLA V BORDER DISTRICTS

Penola finished the minor round atop the premiership ladder and deserves a shot at the ultimate prize.

■ TEEGAN GALPIN – The goal shooter who is a defender's worst nightmare with her unbelievable shooting range and height.

A very valuable member of the team.

■ SARAH MURPHY – Not much fazes this goal attack.

Murphy is a reliable player and killer shot at goal.

She has precision timing and steps it up when needed.

■ AVA COPPING – Copping is a very talented mid-courter at the wing attack position, with impeccable timing and drive.

She reads the play beautifully and accurately feeds the goalies.

■ JESS BLACKMORE – The captain and centre simply does not stop.

Blackmore runs all day and gives 110 per cent every game.

She has the loudest voice on the team.

■ MONIQUE MANEY – At the wing defence position, Maney is reliable in defence or attack.

She gives 100 per cent and takes her player out of the game.

Maney is a huge asset to the team.

■ LAUREN MOORE – Wing defence Moore has been by far the most versatile player this season.

She jumps from one end of the court to the other and does not miss a beat – a coach's dream.

■ JADE LYTHGO – an agile and tough defender, Lythgo dons the goal defence bib and never loses a 1-on-1 match up.

She leads by example and gives it everything as a coach and player.

■ CAITLIN EASON – Eason has an amazing ability to read the play and pick off those quick passes into goalies, perfect for the goal keeper position.

She boasts a great defensive hold and good voice on court.

Big challenge ahead for Penola Div 1 in grand final

DIVISION 1 – PENOLA V KINGSTON

After a solid season, Penola's Division 1 girls finished second behind Kingston and face the minor premiers in the grand final.

■ IVY WURST – Wurst stands tall as a beacon of strength and consistency for Penola.

Her presence in the shooting circle is synonymous with reliability and unyielding determination.

When Wurst is on fire she is a real game-changer for the side.

■ TEGAN LYTHGO – With a unique blend of skill, agility, and precision, Lythgo is the driving force behind Penola's offensive prowess.

She is like a surgeon when the ball is in her hands – calm, steady, consistent and highly methodical.

■ PHOEBE MANARANGI – A player with unwavering determination and a relentless pursuit of defensive perfection, Manarangi dominates the mid-court with her tenacity and agility.

Her ability to read the flow of the game, anticipate moves and make crucial interceptions is next level.

She has a knack for disrupting her opponents' plays and swiftly transitions the ball into her team's attack.

■ TESS PORTER – An explosive and dynamic player whose talent and work rate on the court are unmatched.

You can truly see what an incredible asset she is to the Penola side, with the responsibility of co-captain shouldered well.

Her ability to have an immediate impact anywhere on the court makes her hard to play against and even harder to defend.

There are very few players that leave a lasting impression on the sport, so Porter is definitely one to watch.

■ HEIDI BERKIN – The other co-captain, Berkin is like a knight of old, entrusted to protect their kingdom.

Her commitment to defence is nothing short of inspiring and her netball IQ is off the scale.

With an innate ability to read the game, anticipate passes and execute timely interceptions, she helps form an impenetrable barrier in the shooting circle.

An unstoppable force helping to fortify Penola's defensive stronghold.

■ STELLA O'BRIEN – O'Brien's presence in the defensive circle is a testament to her unyielding commitment to keeping the opposition at bay.

With a keen eye for interceptions, impeccable timing and a resolute defensive mind-set, she is the last line of defence for Penola.

■ HOLLY FLINT – A truly dynamic and creative player who lights up the netball court.

Flint is the vital link in Penola's attack, orchestrating plays with precision and flair.

With her lightning-fast footwork, exceptional passing accuracy and an innate ability to find gaps in the defence, she is the catalyst for Penola's scoring opportunities.

■ ELLA SKEER – Skeer's prowess in the mid-court is nothing short of exceptional, with a unique ability to seamlessly transition between attack and defence.

Her lightning-fast footwork, precise passing and tactical acumen set her apart as a true game-changer.

Her adaptability and vision make her a formidable force, constantly outmanoeuvring her rivals and creating opportunities for her team.

■ ROCHELLE CRAWFORD – Crawford embodies the essence of flexibility, embracing versatility and adaptability to excel in various positions.

On the netball court she is a versatile marvel, constantly influencing the game's dynamics and making a significant impact in whatever position she plays.

No matter if she is shooting, playing in the mid-court or protecting in defence, Crawford has it covered.

Plugging generational gap

By Derek Ogden, Marque Motoring

Mazda sports utility vehicle sibling rivalry just got hotter, with a reborn five-year-old CX-8 re-fitted out and snapping at big brother CX-9's heels, while fending off the challenge of the mid-size CX-5.

Available in six grades – Sport, Touring, Touring Active, GT SP, Asaki and Asaki LE – with petrol or diesel power front or all-wheel drive, the entry-level Sport FWD petrol comes to market at $42,060, plus on-road costs, while the Asaki LE diesel AWD tips the scales at $71,410.

Rearranging the chairs, the Touring Active takes over where the old Touring diesel stood, while the GT SP fills the gap left by the absence of the petrol and diesel Touring SP and GT models.

On test was the GT SP petrol, which takes in premium touches such as power sliding and tilting sunroof and burgundy or black leather seat trim.

Mazda's five-year unlimited kilometre warranty, with roadside assistance, applies across the model range, with service intervals of 12 months or 15,000 kilometres.

Mazda designers have modernised the CX-8 exterior with bold new front and rear bumpers, and tailgate, LED headlamps and tail lights, while a new front grille maintains the company's Kodo – Soul of Motion design tradition.

New signature wings add a premium quality feel, a metallic finish reflecting light in motion, enhancing vehicle dynamics, maybe the colour too, in this case Soul Red Crystal Metallic.

Black metallic and machined finish 19-inch wheels give a lift to the sleek styling and sophistication of the GT SP.

Three rows of seats, with quality finishes, offer enough space to fit all but the most broad-beamed family members comfortably on short trips or long journeys.

Massive rear doors open to almost 90 degrees – there are sun shades too – but there's still some clambering to do to settle in the third row.

Once in, the upright back rest and the cramped knee situation are not conducive to long-distance comfort.

There's limited head room here but the GT SP does have the power adjustment and rear seat heaters of upper specced variants.

A non-too generous 209 litres of cargo space is available with all seats in operation.

A removable base boots capacity to 242 litres.

With the third row folded the total rises to 775 litres.

Call me out of touch but I remain a fan of the switch-and-knob style of control of in-cabin tech.

There is nothing worse than sticky fingerprints on the touchscreen.

The CX-8 centre-console rotary control set-up is my kind of connection.

Some previous CX-8s had only half-smart levels of phone mirroring.

Mazda has fixed this and updates now offer Android Auto and Apple CarPlay wirelessly.

Also newly included is wireless device charging and 10-speaker Bose audio.

On offer is the choice of two engines – a 2.5 litre four-cylinder petrol or 2.2 litre turbodiesel – both mated with a six-speed automatic transmission.

The test vehicle included the former, which came up with maximum power of 140 kW at 6000 rpm and maximum torque of 252 Nm at 4000 rpm.

Diesel versions boast all-wheel drive, while petrol motors have to make do with front-wheel operation only.

The Mazda CX-8 was a five-star rating when it was introduced in 2018.

The upgraded Mazda CX-8 does well fitting into the shape of Mazda's range of SUVs.

Massive interior space allows for comfort on both long and short trips.

As little has been significantly changed the Australasian New Car Assessment Program says it will not be retesting the latest version.

Included are blind spot monitoring, lane-keep assistance, rear-cross traffic alert, tyre pressure monitoring, traffic sign recognition and Isofix child seat anchors for two of the rear seats.

A reversing camera is standard across the range but only in the Asaki and LE is there a full 360-degree system.

The 2.5 litre four-cylinder motor sends a maximum 140 kW of power and 252 Nm of torque to the front wheels only, putting the brake, so to speak, on top-notch towing.

Maximum rating is 1800 kg.

The six-speed transmission is left behind by rivals with more cogs but it doesn't seem to affect the CX-8 unduly, producing a smooth run through all but the upper echelons of the rev band.

Engine noise is the downside here.

Fuel consumption is claimed to be an average of 8.1 litres per 100km for the petrol front-wheel drive on the combines urban/highway cycle.

The test vehicle came up with 11.4 litres per 100 kilometres in city and suburban work and 6.1 litres per 100 kilometres on motorway cruising.

With a bit of heft to handle, the ride can be hostage to some bumps and bangs over bad roads.

Steering responds with feeling and is particularly efficient in parking manoeuvres at lower speeds.

Front-wheel-drive versions of the CX-8 miss out on the Mazda Mi-Drive switchable driving modes allowing the driver to choose between Normal, Sport, Off-Road and a towing mode.

All-round vision for the driver is limited by large rear-view mirrors and a slim rear window but I do rate the clarity of the head-up (any head-up) windscreen display.

Fitting in can be a challenge to anyone going through adolescence.

Doing a person's best for elders can be elusive and so could be the case of the CX-8.

Thankfully Mazda has taken the large SUV and planed off some of the prickly sides to its character, leaving an acceptable member of a growing family.

YOUR WEEKLY TV GUIDE

New beginnings: Longtime Ramsay Street residents Alan Fletcher and Jackie Woodburne welcome Mischa Barton to the Neighbours cast.

PICK OF THE WEEK

NEIGHBOURS

10, Monday, 4.30pm (encore 10 Peach, 6.30pm)

It turns out everybody really does need good neighbours – as the iconic soap makes an unexpected but joyous return after an absence of only 14 months. Thanks to streaming giant Prime Video, who have committed to producing at least 400 new episodes, the residents of Ramsay Street are back, with a slew of changes. Firstly, there's a new version of the theme song, performed by Chris Sebastian (The Voice), and some new faces in the cast – notably The O.C.'s Mischa Barton, but details about her character, Reece, are under wraps. Stalwarts such as Alan Fletcher, Jackie Woodburne and Ryan Moloney will be returning, and we'll also be treated to guest appearances from fan favourites.

MISS SCARLET AND THE DUKE

7TWO, Thursday, 8.30pm

Viewers of this charming historical mystery series will be well acquainted with its headstrong heroine Eliza Scarlet (Kate Phillips, Peaky Blinders) – Victorian London's first-ever female detective – and her ability to run rings around the local law enforcement, but this week, in "The Pauper's Grave", the PI is forced to sit most of the episode out after being accused of a string of burglaries. With her offside William (Stuart Martin, pictured with Phillips) unwilling to help on his day off, it falls to Eliza's housekeeper Ivy (Cathy Belton, Philomena) to clear her name. It's a fun diversion from the usual formula.

THE WHITELEY ART SCANDAL

ABC TV, Tuesday, 8.35pm

Who knew the art world could be so fascinating? First Marc Fennell's heist investigation Framed, and now this – a two-part exposé about what has been called the greatest case of art fraud in Aussie history. It charts an suspected case of forgery and the 2009 sale of two paintings said to be the work of Brett Whiteley. Supposedly part of the artist's acclaimed Lavender Bay series, doubts are quickly raised as to their authenticity, eventuating in a sensational trial. Through an extensive series of interviews with artists, journalists, art dealers, prosecutors and Whiteley's widow Wendy, this account unpacks the fascinating and at-times sordid saga from start to finish.

FIVE BEDROOMS

10, Wednesday, 9pm

In "Two Parties", tonight's episode of this sentimental comedy, introvert Harry (Roy Joseph) is the surprising narrator and reluctant organiser of both a hens' night for Ainsley (Katie Robertson) and Simmo's (Johnny Carr, pictured, right, with Joseph) buck's party. Although unwilling to attend either, Harry is roped into both events after shocking news sends Ben (Stephen Peacocke) spiralling. Hoping to escape the drama, Harry heads to the hens', only to find Liz (Kat Stewart) has a confession to make.

Season set to kick off

The Kalangadoo Bowls Club held its open day recently, with members and friends, along with Mayor Des Noll in attendance.

Members enjoyed the festivities, including a history of the club.

Chris Mules cooked up a storm on the barbecue, while the mayor conducted the formal parts of the day, which included the cutting of a cake to celebrate.

Past club presidents Derk Pietersma and Graham Casey passed on advice to incoming president Marcus Pietersma, while spectators checked out the bowling greens.

Wynns Coonawarra Estate winery is a part of Treasury Wine Estates and is located in Coonawarra in the South East of South Australia.

We are seeking to appoint motivated and reliable people who have a strong work ethic, with the flexibility and ability to work shift work, weekend work and overtime as requested.

Induction and training for these positions will take place in February 2024 with a view to covering the vintage period.

Applications are invited for the following positions:

Cellar Operators

Reporting to the Cellar Manager at Wynns, you will be part of a team responsible for performing cellar activities and operating equipment to produce wines of the highest quality. The nature of the role is manual and duties will involve transferring wine to and from tanks and barrels, grape receipt and processing, loading and unloading tankers, fermentation and racking, whilst maintaining product integrity.

The position requires adherence to our Occupational Health & Safety Policy and the maintenance of superior house-keeping standards. Cellar experience along with a high risk work licence (Forklift) will be an advantage, but is not essential. Current drivers licence is a requirement for this position.

If you would like more information please contact Richard Johnston (0411 106 896) or email richard.johnston@wynns.com.au

Applicants must hold Australian citizenship/residency or a valid Australian work permit.

Applications for positions close 27th October 2023

Golfers spring into action

Ideal spring weather brought out 72 SE Veterans golfers to the Millicent course with fast greens.

Terry Chant used his local knowledge well to win first division with 35 points, from Robe's Gordon Fleming on 34 and Mick Pedler, also on 34.

In second division, John Kirby sprang from the wilderness to score the day's best score of 36 from two locals, Ian Telfer 35 and Bob Childs 34.

Peter Delaine snaffled the Scotch and the Ross Orchard trophy was taken by Bob O'Connor and SE Veterans president Glen Tilley, who described his result as poor.

Players needed 29 points or better to claim a ball.

Officially under way

The Millicent Bowls Club held its official season's opening on Sunday, with president Steve Carnellor inviting deputy mayor of the Wattle Range Council, Peter Dunicliff, to officially kick it off.

After the official opening, Carnellor invited Ladies Singles Champion, Heather Carthew, to roll down the first jack for the season and Men's Singles Champion, Jim Campbell, to bowl the first bowl. After the official part of the day was over, 52 members played two games of 10 ends before going in to the club rooms to enjoy afternoon tea. Overall winners for the day were Ros Varcoe, Ian Nitschke, Mary Clifford and Aaron Emonson with a score of 52+1.

Runners-up with a score of 52+6 were Tery Lonergan, David Botting, macmacdonald and Peter Varcoe.

Leisurely opening for seashiders' season

Robe Bowling Club held its Summer Opening Day on Sunday.

President Harold Manton welcomed members and visitors, before patron and life member Vic Dawson sent down the first jack of the 2023-24 season.

Last year's club champion Steve Farrell then sent down the first bowl to officially open the new season.

A field of 40 players played a game of 12 ends, before enjoying afternoon tea.

The winners on a score of 28+8, were visitor Jan Arnold, Jan Fisk, Ali Douglas and Judy Bermingham.

Dawson and Farrell were both part of the runner-up team, joining Mark Giles and Rob Lawrie for a 28+7.

The club welcomed back Giles, as well as welcoming back from injury Nesla Boundy, Jan Fisk and Kerry Boyd.

Members are reminded notices are on the board for the Matt's Plumbing 100-up on October 1, along with the men and women's championship fours on October 29 and the men's and women's triples on November 5.

Entry forms must be submitted by those who wish to play.

The women's Open Day is to be on Tuesday, September 26, followed by the BPL triples on September 27 where CaddieShack will be in attendance.

Robe has entered Division 1 and 2 teams in the Saturday Pennant, Division 1 and 2 teams in the Friday Pennant and for the first time a team in the mid week competition.

The LSEBA Open Day is September 24.

Pink balls for charity

IN warm windy conditions 17 women play a stableford round at the Millicent Golf Club for the annual Cancer Charity Day Pink Ball teams event.

Teams of three used one pink ball, alternating hitting the pink ball to score for the team.

Karen MacGregor claimed the A Grade win with 37 points from Debbie Tincknell on 35.

In B Grade, Lois Tilley claimed the win with 37 points ahead of Carmel Cory with 34.

In the team event, Janet Watson, Helen Chilton and Bec Shanks claimed the win with 35 points.

Ball winners were Heather Anderson 34 on a count-back from Helen Chilton also with 34, along with Robyn Walters 32.

Nearest the pin second shot, handicap 0-28 on the 16th hole was Walters, on the fifth hole, handicap 32-54 was Annie MacLennan and on the 17th, handicap 28-54 went to Tilley.

Young stars put on strong display in a classic final

17 AND UNDER - MOUNT BURR 48 d PORT MACDONNELL 44

In wet conditions, the rising stars of Mid South East netball played out a classic final.

Mount Burr claimed the 17 and Under semi-final, but not without a fight against Port MacDonnell.

Both teams goalies held strong to gain possession of the ball in a close game that saw the lead change on numerous occasions.

Port MacDonnell's Lara Wilson and Lilly Day shot with accuracy, fed in close to the ring.

Mount Burr's goalies had to work hard for possession in the circle and used their feeders well to have good scoring opportunities.

The Mozzies mid-court made transition hard into the Demons' attack line.

Ella Easterby drove hard through the centre to ensure the Port MacDonnell defenders were kept busy.

Wing Attacks for both teams drove hard to the circle to allow a close feed to goalies.

Brydie McPherson worked hard in the defensive end for the Demons.

In the last quarter both teams started to make more passing errors due to defensive pressure and not adjusting to the weather.

Ashlee Dean stood tall for the Mozzies and in a closely contested game that came down to the last few minutes, Mount Burr pulled away and claimed the win.

Best players for Mount Burr were Dean and Easterby, with McPherson and Day best for Port MacDonnell.

15 AND UNDER - KALANGADOO 74 d HATHERLEIGH 16

Kalangadoo put in a dominant display in the 15 and Under semi-final, off to a strong start and never looked back.

However, despite the final score line there were some close battles over the court.

Kalangadoo created many turnovers to provide more opportunity to score in less-than-ideal shooting conditions.

Shayden Russell was dominant in the circle for the Magpies, shooting 46 of her team's goals.

She was supported well by Lucy Egan at goal shooter.

Hatherleigh created turnovers but struggled to capitalise, with strong defensive work by Maya Anderson in defence for Kalangadoo.

Hannah Bellinger worked tirelessly in the centre for the Eagles, while on the attacking wing, Chloe Bellinger fed the ball in well to her goalies.

Hatherleigh showed plenty of positive signs which they will take into next week's final against Port MacDonnell.

Best players for Kalangadoo were Lucy Egan and Maya Anderson, with Hannah Bellinger and Chloe Bellinger best for Hatherleigh.

13 AND UNDER - KALANGADOO 36 d GLENCOE 24

The youngest members of the Mid South East Netball Association showed plenty of skill in their semi-final.

Both Kalangadoo and Glencoe worked hard for every possession despite the wet conditions.

There were lots of scoring opportunities created, with strong defence applied by Glencoe's Isabella Brierley and Gracie Cary.

At the other end, Kalangadoo's Molly Peacock read the play well and claimed lots of intercepts.

Glencoe goal shooter Ella Stewart shot at 100 percent in the second quarter to keep her side in the game.

Layla Hawke and Annabelle Gordon fed their goalies well and also applied lots of pressure down the court.

Matilda Peacock combined well with Emmitry McElroy in the circle to give Kalangadoo lots of opportunities and maintain their lead.

She was well supported by Zara Cole and Ava Prosperi-Porta.

The Magpies were able to maintain their lead in the last quarter to make the final score line 12 goals in their favour.

Best players for Kalangadoo were Molly Peacock and McElroy, with Hawke and Gordon best for Glencoe.

Millicent shows strength

17 and UNDER - MILLICENT 47 d CASTERTON SANDFORD 25

The previous encounters between these two sides have been tight and the first quarter started the same.

However, Millicent put its foot down from there to push out to an eventual 22-goal win over Casterton Sandford in the 17 and Under preliminary final.

The match started well with both teams scoring from their centre pass as the mid courters dominated the play.

Millicent's Lillie Paul was dominant early hitting the circle edge to find Denton, who scored from long range. At the other end Indi Longhurst was finding space in the attacking third for the Cats.

However, the pressure from Lauren Van Eeden and Edie Easterby denied access to the post.

The Saints went into the quarter time break with a seven-goal lead.

The second quarter started evenly with the Cats' shooter Ivy Lane working hard to find space in the goal circle and finishing well.

Poppy Venn used her speed at goal attack for Millicent, opening the goal circle and finding goal shooter Keelie Lindner at the post.

Casterton Sandford goal keeper Sarah Richardson applied plenty of pressure, but the ball speed was too much to contain.

Easterby continued to dominate in defence and was well supported Maya Tarrant who rebounded strongly.

The Saints held a 12-goal lead at the half-time break.

They continued to rotate their bench and the Cats made changes at the break, swinging Longhurst into centre. Her battle with Paul was a tight tussle as both players continued to find plenty of the ball.

With Denton back on at goal shooter Millicent was able to break away as Paul fed long balls and Denton finished with nine for the quarter.

Venn combined well with wing attack Jamie Lucas to ensure the Saints extended their lead further at the final change.

The Cats swung the changes for the last quarter and it worked in their favour as it went goal-for-goal.

Then the weather turned bad and the slippery conditions caused both teams to make errors.

Lane scored well for the Cats and Easterby continued to dominate, taking intercepts all over the court.

The Saints finished with a 22-goal win and the right to challenge North Gambier in the title decider.

Best players for the Saints were Easterby and Paul and for the Cats Lane and Patton earned a mention.

licent Saints pulled away in the second half to run out comfortable 14-goal winners over East Gambier and advance to the 13 and Under B grand final.

Both teams started nervously and early turnovers had the match go end-for-end without scoreboard damage.

The Saints started to find their attacking flow and with goalies Lindy Van Eeden and Brydie Madden finding their range at the post, while centre Prudence Johnson controlled the midcourt.

They took an early four-goal lead.

East settled through the good work of goal shooter Isabelle Cook.

She found her range and combined well with Sailor McCracken at centre, whose speed was a highlight in the midcourt.

Tight defensive pressure from both sides ensured low scoring until Van Eeden found space and finished with seven for the quarter.

Saints defenders Olivia Hales and Audrey Galambus were able to get some important touches and they extended their lead to be seven goals at the main break.

Changes were made at half time and the Millicent mid court utilised its speed.

Lacey Sunderland hit the circle and combined well with Lottie Matthews to find VanEeden, who continued to be the dominant scorer on court.

East's Ava Hosking made some important intercepts and combined well with Olsen, but the Saints were able to extend their lead to 13 at the last change.

With more players rotated by both sides the quarter was evenly contested.

The Saints moved Johnson to goal defence and she read the ball well to take some timely intercepts.

Millicent controlled the ball in its attacking third and went on to win by 15, earning the right to challenge Casterton Sandford in the grand final.

IN FRONT: Lillie Paul claims possession ahead of Madeline Patton.

Mobbs to show class again

17 and UNDER – NORTH GAMBIER v MILLICENT

On the back of a 25-goal opening quarter from newly-crowned association best and fairest Stella Mobbs, North Gambier easily took care of Millicent in the second semi final.

The 23-goal margin suggests this weekend's title decider will again be lop sided and while the Tigers are clear favourites there are a couple of new facts to add into evidence.

In the second semi final Millicent's Poppy Venn and Edie Easterby were unavailable due to injury.

They both returned to the court on the weekend and they strengthen the Saints significantly.

Easterby adds class to the defensive line or the mid court and she was best on court in the preliminary final.

Venn gives Millicent coach Morgen Lindner options – she can take a shooting role or add bite to the mid court.

That is a mid court already blessed with Lillie Paul, who is smart and composed at all times and has the ability to win the ball back, as well as the reliable Jaimie Lucas and tight-checking Bree Watson.

The smarts and long-range accuracy of Abby Denton cannot be underestimated and then there is the defensive grunt of Maya Tarrant and Mackinlee Alcock.

Stopping supply to Mobbs will be the key mission of the Saints.

That will be tough when you have Macey Griffith not only delivering the ball but shooting plenty of goals herself, with the Tigers' goal attack coming off a stunning A Grade preliminary final on the weekend.

The mid court is also all class with Cara Nulty, Coco Mackereth and Tora Jones.

Specialist wing defence Jayme Young has selflessly taken the goal defence bib in the absence of the injured Luca Roulstone and she will go step-for-step with Lynch to limit her influence.

Ava Collins heads up that defensive end and she is more than capable of creating turnovers when required.

The Saints will absolutely narrow the margin but stopping Mobbs and Griffith from posting a winning score just seems too tough an ask and North should prevail.

15 and UNDER A – MILLICENT v NORTH GAMBIER

Millicent was impressive in the 15 and Under A second semi final and while the Tigers had an easy win in the preliminary final, missing captain and star defender Ruby Mitchell for the title decider will do little to help their cause in reversing that 21-goal loss.

The two sides have had some quality battles over the course of the season but the Saints are clear favourites in this battle.

Mitchell is a huge omission and while Raine Darimaani is an athletic defender, her move into the defensive circle alongside the tight-checking Kelsie Anderson, takes her away from the wing defence role she has mastered in 2023.

That being said, the quality mid court of Maggie Collins and Georgia Nulty and the shooting combination of Mischa Human on the hold and Elodie Adam taking on the long-range shot, gives North plenty of quality.

It is just the Saints also have quality in every role on court.

Kalani Dunn has had a break out season in goal shooter and combines well with Mylee Lynch, who has impeccable timing and is accurate on the finish.

At the defensive end, Emily Denton has the height to match Human while Matti Fauchelle has the agility to run with Adam.

The mid court has three players – Piper Paul, Mia Gysbers and Bell Coghlan - who are all smart, have speed to burn and play as hard defensively as they do with ball in hand.

Millicent not only dominated the second semi final but had they finished more accurately, they may well have won by more.

It is hard to mount a case for the Tigers in this match.

15 and UNDER B – MILLICENT v NORTH GAMBIER

The 15 and Under B grand final looms as one of the nail-biting contests of the day.

When Millicent and North Gambier faced

North Gambier's Stella Mobbs will need to be kept under wraps if Millicent is to get its hands on the 17 and Under premiership. Picture: FRANK MONGER off in the second semi final it took until the final quarter to decide the result.

That was when Tahnee Grosser dominated the attack end for the Saints and Jeda Hibberd and Eva Crowe created some critical turnovers to push Millicent out to victory.

Those three Saints will again be critical in shaping the outcome this weekend.

As will Asha Gysbers, who is a strong and smart player through the mid court, while Emily Walker is a great foil for Grosser, working hard to make good space and accurate on the finish.

Lainie Rainsford, Ella Matthews and Lexi Nicholls round out the mid court for Millicent and give coach Lisa Duldig plenty of options if change is required.

North's shooting combination of 2023 best and fairest Claire Mitchell and Mia Griffith complement each other and if they can get enough supply, the Tigers will be right in the contest.

At the other end, Isabella Stafford anchors the defensive end and with Penny Coleman not available, Raine Darimaani will no doubt take a role in the defensive circle.

Her battle with Grosser could well shape the match.

The Tigers' mid court has the speed of Lily Brook, while Lacey Allen is reliable on the attacking wing and Zoe Dinnison takes care of the defensive wing, with Georgia Nulty and Jenna Baron also available to take a mid court role.

One of the tougher results to predict, but the Saints might just get up in an arm wrestle.

13 and UNDER A – MILLICENT v NORTH GAMBIER

In the 13 and Under A second semi final, Millicent was off to a flyer and dominated the contest.

However, this weekend's decider between the Saints and North Gambier will not be a lop sided contest.

The Tigers found their groove on the weekend with a dominating victory of their own but it was a game which saw many of its key players play themselves back into form.

Millicent is deserved favourites heading into the title decider - not just based on its second semi final performance but because of the quality of the line-up.

Recently crowned association best and fairest Lucy Crowe dominates the mid court and her battle with Jenna Baron will be one of the key contests this weekend.

So will the clash between Saints wing attack Olive Thorne, who is a reliable and composed performer, and Mackenzie Harrold, who comes off a best-on-court performance in the preliminary final for North.

Millicent has speed to burn with Scarlett Zalme and her battle with Grace Collins, who rarely made an error with ball in hand in the preliminary final, will be another crucial match up.

One of the big challenges for North is stopping supply to Amarlie Thomson.

The impressive shooter finished runner-up in the association medal count and she dominated the second semi final, nailing 42 from 46, including an impressive 11-straight goals in the opening quarter.

Thomson is well supported by Indi Coghlan and the Saints shooting duo will test Tigers defenders Amelie Adam and Ava Halloran, who both performed well last weekend.

One of the reasons the Tigers would have a level of confidence heading into the grand final is the form of Carey Grivell and Lacey Hunter on the weekend.

They combined well and finished accurately and will look to put in a strong performance against the tough defensive Saints combination of Lola Ferguson and Audrey Galambos, with the possibility of Crowe also heading into the defensive circle.

This will not be a blowout but the Saints will still get the job done.

13 and UNDER B – CASTERTON SANDFORD v MILLICENT

Casterton Sandford will start the 13 and Under B grand final warm favourites, but the Cats will know not to take Millicent lightly.

After a slow start to the season, the Saints have found their mojo and worked their way through the 2023 finals series, building confidence every week.

The two sides are yet to meet in this finals campaign.

For the Cats Adele Murphy and Renee Gorman are a reliable shooting combination.

At the other end, the tall defensive combination of Ylana Grigg - who finished in the top five in both 13 and Under grades at the association medal count - and Zoya Syed challenge all shooting combinations, especially with their dominance in the air, work over the shot and rebounding capabilities.

It is safe to say, though, the Saints are also well equipped at both ends of the court.

The shooting combination of Lindy Van Eeden and Brydie Madden have built across this finals series and come off a strong preliminary final performance, while defensively the Saints have a plethora of options.

Audrey Galambos anchors the defensive end, combining well with Olivia Hales, who also plays an important role on the defensive wing.

Prudence Johnson, who was runner-up best and fairest in this grade, plays mid court and goals as well, while Sophie Walker is a tough one-on-one defender.

The mid courts of both teams are also quality.

Marlee Robbins runs hard both ways in centre for the Cats, while Brooklyn Mutch is a steadying influence on the attacking wing and Georgia Bailey is as tenacious as they come.

Stacey Edwards and Isabella Luers supplement that mid court and give the Cats plenty of options to run fresh legs.

Millicent has the smarts of Lottie Matthews on the attacking wing, Lacey Sunderland's speed in any of the mid court roles and Johnson, Hales and Clara Vella, who is the quiet achiever of this line-up.

This looms as a tight contest with the Cats to prevail in a nailbiter.

No mercy from Magpies

By Trevor Jackson

KALANGADOO 11.14 (80) d
PORT MACDONNELL 8.9 (57)

A strong first three quarters handed Kalangadoo a win over Port MacDonnell in the Mid South East football second semi-final on Saturday.

The Demons held the wood over the Magpies after the minor rounds, with two wins from both contests.

However, that made little difference on Saturday as the Magpies simply went about their job on a wet Tantanoola oval and showed why they are the defending premiers.

The Magpies were out of the blocks fast and kept up the pressure until the final stanza, where they fell off slightly, but with the game already in hand.

The consistent effort saw the margin increase at every break, with the Demons only able to make inroads in the final term, when the damage had already been done.

It was also a consistent effort in front of goals, with Jack Casey, Connor Gentile, Ben Gregory and Lachy Jones all contributing two goals each.

For the Demons, only Alex Ridding kicked multiple goals, with three to his name.

The victory gave the Magpies the first grand final berth up for offer and they will now wait for the winner of Port MacDonnell and Hatherleigh this weekend for their opponent and the chance of back-to-back premierships.

For coach Alex Lyon it was a pleasing result for several reasons.

"It was a great result," he said.

"It all came together for us on Saturday.

"Our pressure on the Port MacDonnell players was really good, our tackling count was right up and we chopped off their shorter options around the ground, which was really pleasing.

Apart from that Lyon said the forwards spread well to negate intercept marks, which the Demons had used to good advantage the last time to two sides met.

It was part of a plan to slow the Demons' run and it worked a treat.

"We just tried to negate their run from the half-back line as much as we could and it seemed to work for us," Lyon said.

"But we never got away from them – I never felt comfortable until the final siren went.

"They can score quickly but our back six was tremendous in the last half of the game.

"They set up beautifully and forced them wide and it is a hard oval to score from if you come in wide."

Lyon said the likes of Justin Bromley and James Pratt were pillars of strength, while Mitch Lowe and Matthew Fatchen provided plenty of run.

Also mentioned was the good form of Tom Williams, Sam Casey and Nick Jenkin.

However, Lyon said against a side like Port MacDonnell, you never feel completely comfortable, even with a 33-point advantage leading into the final term.

"The breeze out there was probably a three-goal advantage and they were coming home with the breeze," he said.

"I didn't want to lock down the footy too much and go too negative in that last quarter and give them the opportunity to blast on some goals.

"They are a team that can score quickly so it was a bit tense."

Lyon said the mid-field was also exceptional, but the main contributing factor was the pressure around the ground.

"I think our tackle count was over 70," he said.

"I was really happy with our brand of footy – our last three games have been pleasing.

"It was also a good response since Port MacDonnell beat us by 40 points on our home deck.

"But the thing that did it for us was our pressure."

With a grand final berth now secured and the chance of back-to-back premierships a reality, Lyon said it was no time to relax.

"I don't think it is an advantage going straight through," he said.

"Our last two flags were won from preliminary finals.

"We just have to keep our heads right for these two weeks and if we play that brand of footy again on grand final day, hopefully we can hold the cup up at the end of the day."

Too strong on the court and under the basket

A GRADE - KALANGADOO 51 d
GLENCOE 34

Kalangadoo set up its charge to a Mid South East netball flag with a strong semi-final win over reigning premiers Glencoe on Saturday.

The Magpies won the toss and started with the ball, scoring the first goal through Ebony McDiarmid.

The Murphies overuse of the ball in their attack line allowed Kalangadoo to turn the ball over and push out to an early three-goal lead.

Glencoe settled and scored through Chantelle Cocks, with the game going goal-for-goal.

Slippery conditions caused errors by both sides and did not allow for a high standard of netball.

McDiarmid was a focal point in the Kalangadoo circle, shooting 12 from 12 for the quarter and ensuring her side had a healthy nine-goal lead at the break.

In the second term Glencoe broke Kalangadoo's first centre pass and pegged the lead back by two goals.

Scrappy play by both sides meant neither could gain the upper hand.

However, Kalangadoo settled with excellent pressure along their defensive line and great feeding by Jayde Peacock, giving the goalies opportunities to convert and neither let their side down, increasing the lead to 15 at the main break.

The third quarter saw youngster Chloe Peacock step up her intensity to add extra pressure to the Murphies' defensive end.

However, Glencoe was not to be denied and through the strong defensive work of Sarah Edwards and Chelsea Owen, Cocks and Jenna Paproth were given more opportunities to convert.

FOCUSED: Kalangadoo goal shooter Ebony McDiarmid concentrates on a shot.

Strong work by the Murphies saw them peg the Magpies lead back to 12 at the final break. In the last quarter Cocks and Paproth continued to work well in their attacking end, despite the pressure applied by Lauren Kain and Lara Munro.

At the other end of the court Chelsea Owen worked hard to curb the influence of McDiarmid on the game, but her accuracy under the post meant there were few opportunities.

With five minutes to go Donna Jaeschke had to leave the court with the blood rule, which gave talented Glencoe youngster Zoe Mulraney an opportunity to take the court in an A Grade final.

Accurate shooting by McDiarmid, missing just two goals for the game, was the difference in the end.

Best players for Kalangadoo were Jayde Peacock and Kain, with Jaeschke and Owen best for Glencoe.

Roosters up against it

By Trevor Jackson

RESERVES – HATHERLEIGH v ROBE

Hatherleigh and Robe go into battle in the Mid South East football preliminary final on Saturday, with a good case to be made for either side.

With their A Grade side now out of the picture, the Roosters will have even more desire to reach the grand final and face Kalangadoo.

However, the Eagles finished as minor premiers and would surely see the premiership flag as their own, after dropping just one game for the season.

That loss came at the hands of Kalangadoo, providing even more incentive for Hatherleigh to reach the big dance and seek to atone for that blemish.

The Eagles were comfortable victors the last time the two sides faced off in Round 13.

However, earlier in the season the Roosters took the game up to Hatherleigh and went down by just eight points.

It shows the disparity is not too big and the Roosters are every chance to claim the win, especially on their home deck.

But the Eagles should be at their best and claim the win to challenge for the 2023 premiership flag the following week.

UNDER 17.5 – TANTANOOLA v ROBE

Robe will face minor premiers Tantanoola in the Mid South East football preliminary final on Saturday on their home deck.

The young Roosters would be pleased to have advanced this deep, after they finished fourth on the ladder.

They did that by easily accounting for the third-placed Hatherleigh in the first semi-final.

The Tigers were easily beaten by Port MacDonnell, with both Tantanoola and the Demons finishing equal on points after the minor rounds.

That may work against the Roosters, as the Tigers will come out all guns blazing in the hope of another shot at the Demons and subsequently the premiership flag.

The Tigers should claim this one comfortably after an early barrage from Robe.

UNDER 14 MIXED – PORT MACDONNELL v HATHERLEIGH

The Under 14 Mixed grade promises a quality contest to kick off the Mid South East football preliminary final day at Robe.

Port MacDonnell and Hatherleigh go head-to-head and after a big season for the Demons, they would start as favourites.

The Demons claimed the minor premiership, but by just a few percentage points.

The Eagles finished in fourth place and have a big job ahead if they are to face Glencoe in the grand final the following week.

Port MacDonnell holds the advantage after the minor rounds, with two comfortable victories over Hatherleigh.

They last faced off in Round 18 in what was a big win to the Demons.

Port MacDonnell should have no trouble to advance to the grand final, despite a valiant effort by the Eagles.

Robe will look to the experience of players such as James Francisco when it faces Hatherleigh in the Mid South East football Reserves preliminary final on Saturday.

B GRADE – MILLICENT 38 d WEST GAMBIER 32

The Western Border B Grade netball preliminary final was expected to be a close contest.

It lived up to that hype and the first quarter was a goal-for-goal affair.

It was not until the dying minutes of the game Millicent was able to finally break away and record a six-goal win over a determined West Gambier.

In wet conditions both sides were patient with their entry into the goal circle.

Saints goal shooter Nicole Domaschenz was the focal point in the attack line, using her height and strength to gain an advantage.

She was well fed by goal attack Josie Lang and wing attack Kalli Brown.

At the other end West's Caitlyn Carrail was the playmaker at goal attack and she did a lot of work out front setting the play, while also finished with eight goals for the quarter.

Scores were all tied up at quarter time.

The second quarter remained the same and the midcourt battles continued to be a highlight.

Krystal Coghlan applied defensive pressure through the middle, causing errors in West's attack with her tight checking style and Bianca Jackway was running hard to give her side an advantage.

Domaschenz played her best quarter scoring 8 from 10 and goal keeper Michelle Flemming rebounded any missed shots to help her team take a three-goal advantage into the main break.

Both sides made changes at half time with West bringing on goal attack Elysha Gillies and Millicent's Jordyn Iovino entering the match at centre.

Iovino added speed and teamed well with Coghlan across the defensive centre where they caused errors.

Coghlan picked up crucial intercepts to help her side take a match winning eight-goal lead at the last change.

The last quarter was a tight affair as West made a fight back through the defensive efforts of Brooke Holmes and Daena Wombwell.

Missed attempts at goal by the Saints were rebounded by Wombwell and transitioned through Jackway.

With Gillies finishing well, West closed the gap to four goals with five minutes to play.

The Saints settled in the last few minutes and with Lang finishing the good work they were able to hold on and take the win by six goals.

The Saints now have the opportunity to see if they can match the talented Casterton Sandford to cause an upset in the B Grade grand final.

Top side to be determined

By Trevor Jackson

A GRADE – PORT MACDONNELL v HATHERLEIGH

One last chance remains to make the Mid South East football grand final, with Port MacDonnell and Hatherleigh to fight for the honour at Robe on Saturday.

The Demons fell just short of the chance to fight for back-to-back premiership flags last season and will not want to miss this one.

In contrast, Hatherleigh showed much potential in 2022, but were easily accounted for by Kalangadoo on a woeful day for football, after dissecting the Magpies in the semi-final.

It provides plenty of desire for both sides and equates to a game not to be missed.

Of course the winner faces Kalangadoo and either side is capable of putting on a good display in the big dance.

First they need to get through this Saturday.

The Eagles come off a week's break after easily accounting for Robe in the first semi-final.

The Demons had their colours lowered by Kalangadoo last week and may be feeling the pinch of a tough hit-out.

The ledger through the minor rounds sits at one win apiece, but when the two sides last faced off in Round 18 the Demons claimed a 26-point win.

Much of that came from the boot of Kev Thomson with four goals, plus league best and fairest Josh Woodall with three.

Woodall has certainly coached his players to perfection, peaking them at the right time of the year.

However, the same could be said of Gerard McGrath.

He has the Eagles in scintillating form right when it matters and with plenty of options up forward, it will be a matter of accurate delivery and Hatherleigh is every chance to advance to the final game of the year.

In that last clash with the Demons, Eagles Louis Brown and Jed Telfer kicked three goals each, but generally they share the goals around down through a long list, as does Port MacDonnell.

Tom Hutchesson may be the ace the Eagles need to control the ball out of the mid-field, as he has hit some good form late after

A big game from Glencoe's Donna Jaeschke will be key to a Murphies victory in the Mid South East netball A Grade preliminary final on Saturday. Pictures: FILE an earlier-season injury.

For the Demons, the likes of Ned Wilke and Mark Smith can turn the game on its head, with a strong in-and-under game and fast ball movement back up the ground to the waiting hands of Colby Munro, or resting talls Will MacDonald or Tim Sullivan.

Jack Skeer is always a big focus for the Eagles, along with Brad Mitchell and of course the list goes on.

A fast start will be required and the Demons do that well, while the Eagles have been known to be tardy in the opening term.

If they can stick to a solid game plan and take the game up to the Demons from the first bounce, it is anyone's guess who will emerge as the Magpies' challenger the following week.

Port MacDonnell should have enough desire and the fast game plan to take the honours and advance to the grand final, but it will certainly be no easy feat.

Preliminary final to be a cracker set up

A GRADE – GLENCOE v TANTANOOLA

The Mid South East netball A Grade preliminary final is set up to be a cracker of a match when Glencoe takes on Tantanoola at Robe on Saturday in what is forecast to be great conditions for netball.

Tantanoola has enjoyed a week's rest after a hard-fought one-goal win against Robe in the first semi-final.

For Glencoe, despite coming off a loss in the second semi-final would be happy with their last half against Kalangadoo. There are great match-ups all over the court.

With the Tigers expecting the return of Keryl Ousey, they have plenty of options in the shooting circle with any of the combinations including Jami Walker and Emma Gould.

The height of Ousey and Gould would certainly cause headaches for Glencoe defenders Sarah Edwards and Chelsea Owen.

They will need to work hard to minimise the impact of the height, but Jami Walker may take the goal attack position, where her speed and accuracy will cause headaches for defenders.

Chloe Pfitzner will need to work hard at wing defence no matter which of the Walker sisters she lines up against, as they are both speedy and creative in the wing for Tantanoola.

Casey Walker lined up on the attacking wing in the first semi-final and had a great effect on the game, although this may change in the preliminary final as she could very well line up on the defensive wing. If that is the case, she will work hard to limit opportunities to Alice Tentye.

Kate Varcoe is consistent in the centre for the Tigers and the tussle between her and Donna Jaeschke will be one to watch.

Jenna Paproth and Chantelle Cocks combine well in the circle for the Murphies and might just have the edge on Kate Bromley and Tayla Rowe.

Glencoe should win and earn the opportunity to defend their premiership title.

Kalangadoo's Georgia Gentile will need to apply plenty of pressure if the Magpies are to be successful in the Mid South East netball preliminary final on Saturday.

Association best and fairest Cody Manning will need to be at her accurate best in the goal circle if the Demons are to prevail.

Grand final berths on line

A RESERVE – KALANGADOO v PORT MACDONNELL

Kalangadoo and Port MacDonnell fight it out for a grand final berth against Robe the following weekend in the grand final.

Best and fairest Cody Manning has proven to be an accurate goalie for the Demons and combines well with Kirby Carrison.

Narelle Lewis will use her knowledge and experience to guide her team from the circle edge, feeding her goalies with precision.

Kalangadoo's Georgia Gentile and Reanna Wetherall will need to apply intense pressure in the goal circle, creating turnovers wherever possible and sending the ball back down the court.

Down the other end of the court Port MacDonnell's Nicola Collins and Isabelle Sneath will get their hands over the ball, snapping up any rebounds that come their way, forcing Kalangadoo goalies to earn every possession.

Gina Gogel and Sophie Wrightson shoot with accuracy in the circle for the Magpies, supported from outside by Lucy Williams.

Both teams have been evenly matched throughout the season and this game will see all players battle hard to earn their spot in the grand final.

B GRADE – ROBE v GLENCOE

Robe and Glencoe have had a win each this season and will play off a final time for the chance to face Kalangadoo in the grand final.

Robe's Maddi Wirth and Amanda Culley will create turnovers for the Roosters and send the ball back down the court through Keelin Winterfield and Jade Regnier.

Glencoe's Kayla McInnes and Kate Sealey will need to work hard to shut down the Robe's shooting line-up.

Runner-up best and fairest Ella Mackey is a focal point in the circle for the Roosters, supported by Amy Wetherall, shooting well from a range within the circle.

Amy Cleggett and Hayley Dunsford will fight to keep their players from the circle edge, forcing errors and turnovers where possible for the Murphies.

Both teams have the potential to win and this may be a close game, with either team heading to the Grand Final.

B RESERVE – KALANGADOO v MOUNT BURR

Kalangadoo and Mount Burr face off in the B Reserve preliminary final, with the Magpies the favourite to head to the grand final.

Kalangadoo's Jodi Greenwood and Maddi Wilkinson work well together in the goal circle, but they will have to work hard to gain possession under the pressure of Dawn Smith and Rebecca Fox.

Any turnovers for Mount Burr will be fed back down the court by Hannah Fraser and Emily Haines.

Down the other end of the court Magpies Gemma Box and Brianna Devine will work overtime to shut down the influence of Sophie Jankowski and Ava Smith-Muhovics in the goal circle for the Mozzies.

Kalangadoo's Rebecca White and Ange Case will fight hard to get circle edge, feeding into their strong goalies under pressure.

Kalangadoo won both times these teams faced each other in the minor rounds and will come away with another win this weekend to play off against Hatherleigh in the grand final.

17 AND UNDER – PORT MACDONNELL v TANTANOOLA

Port MacDonnell battled hard in the second semi-final in trying conditions going down in a close tussle with Mount Burr.

They come up against a talented Tigers side who are hungry for a grand final spot.

Both teams have strong goal circles with Bella Poulsh being a focal point and she is supported well by Ebony Cytrowski.

Lara Wilson and Lilly Day shot accurately in the second semi-final and will need to bring this form into the preliminary final as Molly Cushion has had a great season at goal defence for the Tigers and will snap up any rebounds afforded to her under the post.

Sophie Lewis works hard in the mid-court for the Demons and helps her side transition from defence to attack.

Her influence in this area will be needed if the Demons are to gain the win.

15 AND UNDER – HATHERLEIGH v PORT MACDONNELL

Hatherleigh plays off against Port MacDonnell after a loss to Kalangadoo in the second semi-final at Tantanoola.

Both teams have fought hard for their position in the preliminary final, with both teams having secured a win in the minor rounds.

This game will be one to watch and both teams will work tirelessly to secure their place in the grand final.

Hatherleigh's Hannah Bellinger and Poppy Fitzgerald use their height to their advantage in the defensive circle for the Eagles, applying intense pressure to Chloe Day and Bailee Lewis.

Amber Chester and Leni Carruthers will feed their goalies, Kalli Nettle and Chloe Bellinger, with accuracy from outside the circle, but they will be put under pressure by Demons Jasmine Morgan and Isla Fulham.

Layla McPherson and Chelsea Fulham will work tirelessly in the defensive circle for Port MacDonnell, creating pressure and forcing turnovers for their team, feeding the ball back down the court to their goalies.

Both teams will need to give it their all to come away with the win and the honours will go to whoever fights the hardest on the day.

13 AND UNDER – GLENCOE v HATHERLEIGH

Hatherleigh and Glencoe face off in the 13 and Under preliminary final in a showcase of the young talent in the association.

Both teams have had a win when facing off in the minor rounds and will fight hard to win their place in the grand final.

Hatherleigh's Livvi Faulkner and Sienna Clark shoot well in the circle, moving with ease and are supported from outside by Grace Andre and Mollie O'Connor.

Glencoe's Layla Hawke and Annabelle Gordon will battle hard outside of the circle for the Murphies, keeping their opponents off of the circle and limiting feeding opportunities.

Glencoe's Ella Stewart and Hallie Sealey will move well in the circle, shooting with accuracy, but they will be put under pressure by Eagles Tilly Prouse and Luca Hamilton.

This game has the potential to go either way, with both teams fighting for the chance to play in the big dance.

Saints on the cusp

Sam Stafford looms as the major threat in the forward line, but with the likes of Toby de Wit, Justin McConnell and Tyson Christopherson also patrolling those waters, the Millicent defence will be kept busy.

At the other end North's backline has been a pillar of strength in 2023. Jake Schutz was named best defender in the league on Sunday and he has proven capable on any opponent. Brett Shepherdson comes off an impressive outing, while the likes of Jordan Hollitt and Ciaran Buckley are also consistently solid. Young guns Mackye Baron and Aaron Dally will have their first taste of an A Grade grand final and both have been regular top performers this campaign.

While the Saints will be hot favourites, North's core group is no stranger to post-season success. All will be revealed on Saturday and with the shroud of uncertainty over Limestone Coast football and netball in 2024, it may well be a history-defining victory.

New thriller awaits

A GRADE – MILLICENT v WEST GAMBIER

It was a match of the highest quality when Millicent and West Gambier faced off in the second semi-final and there is no reason to think this weekend's premiership decider will be any different.

The Roos had to fight hard to take care of North Gambier in the preliminary final but showed when things were not clicking and when the pressure was on, they were still able to work hard and find a way.

Sarah Ritter looms large and she was the difference in the 2022 decider with her best-on-court performance.

Ritter had a tough day at the office in the preliminary final against Stella Mobbs but she refused to concede and, in the end, netted 52 from 57.

That included first and third quarters where she did not miss.

Portia McRae will have the job of minding Ritter and she will be all too aware of reducing her access to the ball.

McRae will also need to work hard over the shot and block hard on the rare rebounding opportunities to create turnover ball.

Ritter is well served by her shooting team mate Lisa McGregor – the recently crowned team of the year playing coach.

She showed in the preliminary final she is not afraid of hard work and presenting for multiple passes to keep the ball in West hands until Ritter opens up.

Her battle with Lauren Van Eeden, who will need to go step-for-step with the experienced goal attack, will be one of the match-defining battles.

Mikaela Horrigan delivered some stunning long-range balls in the preliminary final and whether she is matched up on Kimmi Tincknell, who had an impressive second semi final, or Lisa Duldig, they will need to place hands pressure over every delivery to try and force an error.

2023 Western Border netball best and fairest Demi Verbena will look to continue her stellar season when the Saints meet West Gambier in the grand final this weekend.

Picture: FRANK MONGER

Tara Bryant is another Roo who covered plenty of distance on the court in the second semi final.

Her match up with Duldig or Lille Paul will be integral to the final result with all three players fit, fast and as effective at the offensive end as they are in being a defensive threat.

Perhaps the most important match up on the day is Amy Cram taking on association best and fairest Demi Verbena.

Verbena is critical to the Saints' fortunes with her strong front cuts, speed on the drive and ability to find Tabatha Sanderson in space.

If anyone is up to the challenge it is Cram and she had a great dress rehearsal in the preliminary final.

Cram and Jade Ritter were the players who took some critical interceptions and some hard-fought rebounds in the tense preliminary final and their ability to do that again will be pivotal in the Roos' premiership defence.

It has been tight all season between these two teams and was a one-goal margin a fortnight ago. It is simply too close to call but a match not to be missed.

Saints underdogs against solid Demons

By James Murphy

UNDER 16 – SOUTH GAMBIER v MILLICENT

The Under 16 Western Border football grand final will be contested between South Gambier and Millicent.

The Saints will enter the clash as underdogs, with South yet to record a loss in 2023. The young Demons have set the benchmark of the competition and following a 59-point win over Millicent in the second semi final, will enter the decider with confidence.

On that day William Attiwill piled on six goals for the Demons, while Noah and Jace Maxwell were also reliable targets with three each. Lewis Sigley was best on ground, while the Saints looked to Harrison Thwaites.

Charlie Damhuis flew the Millicent flag at the junior medal count on Sunday, finishing runner-up best and fairest for the grade. He will be another one to watch, along with the likes of Kobe Gibson, Ashton Lindner and Cambell Hateley, who kicked four goals in last week's preliminary final.

Jace Maxwell and Attiwill were the top goal scorers for the season, with the former claiming the league goal kicking medal with 46 minor-round majors.

The Saints' defence will need to stand tall against a powerhouse attack, while also focussing on breaking down the Demons' backline to score themselves.

In their last meeting Millicent mustered up just three goals to South's 12, something which will need to improved on if an upset is to occur.

However, with 17 consecutive wins for 2023, the Demons show no signs of tripping at the final hurdle and should secure the premiership honours.

North juniors put on impressive display

By James Murphy

UNDER 14 - NORTH GAMBIER 9.7 (61) d MILLICENT 0.2 (2)

After a one-sided preliminary final contest North Gambier had progressed to the Under 14 Western Border football decider.

The Tigers faced Millicent in the must-win clash and they held nothing back on their way to a 59-point upset win.

The Saints were held scoreless for the full four quarters and were unable to hit the scoreboard at all until the third quarter, where they added their only two points for the game.

Meanwhile, North set up a 20-point lead with three first quarter goals, before extending the buffer to 30 points by half time.

The Tigers encountered some resistance in the third term and only added one-goal-one.

However, another impressive return in the fourth put the icing on the cake with four majors pushing the margin out to 59.

Sam Baron put in a strong captain's game to be named best on ground.

He also slotted two goals, complementing the efforts of Esaie Kulimushi who piled on five majors for the match.

Cooper Harris was another standout, while Cody Blanck, Ethan Brook and James Butler rounded out the best players.

Millicent's best was Lenny Tunkin, while Sebella Coghlan backed up a strong second semi-final performance with another good outing.

Louis Easterby also earned a mention, in a day which left much to be desired for the young Saints.

The Tigers now progress into the big dance against South Gambier, where they face a greater challenge against the minor premiers.

Get ready for a tough arm-wrestle

By James Murphy

RESERVES – MILLICENT v WEST GAMBIER

The 2023 Western Border football Reserves grand final is shaping up to be a blockbuster.

Millicent and West Gambier play off for the season bragging rights and if their last encounter is anything to go by, not much will separate them.

The qualifying final had the Saints book the first place in the decider by just a single point, after a four-quarter arm wrestle at McLaughlin Park.

Now the teams take to Blue Lake Sports Park for the game that matters most, with everything on the line and glory up for grabs.

West finished minor premier and had the best of the head-to-head during the home-and-away season.

However, finals are a different beast and the Saints will be determined to go one step better than their runner-up finish in 2022.

Millicent's Nathaniel Robbins was crowned league best and fairest on the weekend and he will be one to watch on the big stage.

He has appeared in the Saints' best players in 14 of his 15 appearances this year and will need to be kept under wraps to prevent him tearing open the game.

The Roos had to take the long way into the decider, with a win over East Gambier in the preliminary final setting up the rematch.

Patrick Rudd comes off an impressive outing, while Bana Say and Guillaume Ros-Smith also stood out last week.

West boasts Reserves leading goal kicker

Josh Schapel and he will be looked at with interest on Saturday.

He scored 52 goals for the year and is sure to further his tally in the final outing of 2023.

Schapel slotted four majors in the second semi final against the Saints, while it was Dwayne Phillips who led the charge as the best on the field.

Millicent has its own scoring power, with Joshua Peters (36 goals) and Steven Duldig (33) doing a bulk of the damage this season.

Robbins, Brad Tilley and Jacob Todd put in two goals each to help the Saints to victory in their last meeting, with youngsters Ty Lang and Colby O'Connor impressive against the Roos on that occasion.

It shapes up as another thriller, but Millicent will hold a slight edge.

Saints earn themselves another shot

By James Murphy

UNDER 16 - MILLICENT 10.8 (68) d WEST GAMBIER 7.7 (49)

Millicent's Under 16 footballers have earned themselves another shot at an undefeated South Gambier.

The young Saints faced West Gambier in Saturday's preliminary final, where a strong second-half performance handed them a 19-point win.

A slow start from Millicent allowed the Roos out to an early lead.

A three-goal opening quarter had them out to an 18-point advantage by the first break, before the Saints managed to reel it back in to four points by half time.

The game remained there for the taking and it was Millicent which pushed ahead in the "premiership" quarter.

A four-goal effort to West's one had the Saints leapfrog in front and carry a 12-point buffer into the final change.

They kept their rival at arm's length with another three goals and despite the Roos' best efforts, two majors were not enough to bridge the gap.

It was no surprise to see Cambell Hateley lead the Saints on the scoreboard, with his four goals crucial to the result.

Kobe Gibson also scored well with three majors and he was named second best on the day for his efforts in and around the contest.

However, it was Harrison Thwaites who impressed most and he received the best-on-ground award.

Ashton Lindner, Teej Lawlor, Charlie Damhuis and Zach Ash also performed well, while Curtis Shanks was another multiple goal scorer with two majors.

The Roos looked to Harvey Croker on the day.

He claimed the best-on-ground honours and kicked three goals in a well-rounded performance.

Rhys Newton was another standout, while Brodie Szopory, Owen Feetom and William Pearson rounded out the best.

While West is sent packing, a big challenge awaits the Saints.

South has been untouchable this season and it will take a mammoth effort for Millicent to knock the Demons off their perch in this week's grand final.

Saints set for glory

A RESERVE – Millicent v West Gambier

The margin in the A Reserve second semi final between Millicent and West Gambier, contradicted a tough opening half and was not reminiscent of the clashes between the two sides during the season.

There is no reason to think the margin will be anywhere in the vicinity of that 19-goal margin in this week's grand final.

Controlling the scoring power of Donna Denton, who was named joint association best and fairest at the weekend's medal count, will be priority one for West Gambier. That puts the pressure on Racheal Langford, who was celebrated for her 300 senior games at the medal count, but will take efforts defensively from all her team mates as well.

Langford is a tight-checking defender who will wear Denton like a glove, while her partner in crime in circle defence Maddie Milich will need to do likewise with Abby Denton and Rylee Kenny, as they are the creative goal attacks who feed the ball to the experienced shooter.

Jackie Sunderland is also key with her connection to Denton, as well as her defensive efforts and that is why she was the other winner of the association best and fairest. Her battle with Anna Bosco, who finished in the best and fairest top five, will be one of the key match ups on the day, with Chelsea Tremelling also possibly called on to quell the influence of Sunderland.

Carlee Ransom is another key for the Roos and her battle with Alice Pratt will be pivotal in the final result.

The West shooting combination of Tahlia Earl and Gracie Peterson has had a stunning season. Earl is strong at the post and Peterson strong on the drive, with Saints defenders Nikeisha Facey and Keeley Stuart needing to be at their best. The Millicent defensive duo certainly got the job done in the second half of the second semi final but West's demolition of North Gambier in the preliminary final will see the Roos enter this clash full of confidence.

It will be a much closer result but Millicent should still get the job done.

B GRADE – Casterton Sandford v Millicent

Casterton Sandford will start the B Grade grand final as favourites.

The Cats have a tall goal shooter in Shelby Nolte who has improved every single outing this season. They also have association best and fairest Trictia Cleary, who not only feeds Nolte with precision, but finishes accurately herself. Then there is the mid court of young speedster Amber Balzan, strong driving centre Anna Whillas, experienced wing defender Kerri Harvey and athletic utility Dakota Crawford.

Defensively Emma Grigg leads the charge with her tight checking and ability to get her hands on the ball to create turnovers, with Jess Cousins and youngster Sarah Richardson taking the goal keeper bib to back Grigg up.

Millicent is not without its chances, especially with Michelle Fleming not ruled out due to her second semi final hand injury and ready to take on Nolte.

Fleming will rely on the support of Veronica Duncan, who is a tight-checking defender with good reach, as well as pressure from the mid court, especially centre Krystal Coghlan who will no doubt be damaging at both ends of the court. The Millicent front line will look to find ways to find Nicole Domaschensch in good space at the post, with Josie Lang and Kate Patten taking the other shooting role, while Kalli Brown brings leadership, a strong voice and plenty of smarts to the wing attack role.

It is hard to see the Cats not claim the title but they will be wise not to take a rejuvenated Saints line-up lightly.

Saints are on the cusp

By James Murphy

A GRADE – MILLICENT v NORTH GAMBIER
Millicent A Grade footballers are on the cusp of a Western Border three-peat, with one final obstacle in the way of the ultimate goal.

That comes in the form of North Gambier, who enter the grand final confident after knocking minor premier West Gambier off its perch in last week's preliminary match.

The Saints will enter as favourites, having bested the Tigers in all four meetings this campaign.

However, the same could have been said of the Roos.

The margins have not been large in recent bouts and the Round 16 encounter was only a 13-point game.

Though they have not met in finals and Millicent is the most experienced post-season club in the competition across the last five years.

The Saints broke a long-standing premiership drought in 2018, before a year in the wilderness had them finish bottom without a win.

Then, with the return of coach Clint Gallio to the helm, they went back-to-back in 2021 and 2022.

Saturday stands as Gallio's final game at the club before he makes the move back to Mount Burr to coach in 2024.

He is having a standout season in his own right, being a regular among Millicent's best players, but his leadership and tutelage for those coming through the ranks is what shines through most.

There is no shortage of talent in the Saints lineup and it will be hard to tip against them when they take to Blue Lake Sports Park on Saturday.

Jacob Carger proved he is built for finals with a trademark captain's game in the second semi final, which helped Millicent book the first grand final berth.

Frazer Bradley has been as prolific as ever and won the league goal kicking award, while his brother Kade is one of the benchmark defenders in the competition.

Harry Tunkin and Josh Werchon were named joint best Under 21 players for the league at the weekend's season awards.

The duo will be one to watch through the midfield, joined by the likes of Kade Varcoe who has also had an exceptional year.

Throw in the likes of Hamish McRae and ruckman Finn Grimes, who both had solid semi final games, and the Saints are brimming with potential.

Hamish Nitschke played a major role in last year's title defence and he is due another big game, while Zac McGuinness and Kalan Shanks stand tall down back.

They will be kept busy this week as North has a versatile attack line. The Tigers enter as underdogs, but with no expectations comes a freedom which may elude the Saints.

Nick McNerney has shown he is a big game player across this finals series.

He is a bull around the contest and that showed in the first semi final, where he and ruckman Mitchel Kelton ensured the Tigers had control over stoppages.

McNerney stepped it up a notch on Saturday against West and put in a best-on-ground performance as he led North to the upset victory.
